

14-5-1888

1. 1888
2. 1888
3. 1888

LIBRARIES NI
WITHDRAWN FROM STOCK

A Statement of Accounts,

AND OF A FEW

FACTS OF LOCAL INTEREST,

PRESENTED

TO THE CATHOLICS

OF

BALLYMONEY & DERRYKEIGHAN.

BY THE

REV. JOHN M'ERLAIN, P.P.,

BALLYMONEY.

11037

U/A-BMD-282.09

1881.

Forsan et hæc olim meminisse juvabit.

NORTH EASTERN BOARD LIBRARY SERVICE
AREA LIBRARY, DEMESNE AVENUE, BALLYMENA
CO. ANTRIM

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF IRELAND,

P R E F A C E.

---

MY DEAR FRIENDS,

Our position at present may be compared, not inaptly, to that of travellers who, after a long and wearisome journey, in which many dangers were encountered and overcome; having, at last, arrived at their destination, sit down; and, with pleasure, talk over the perils of the way. We have been engaged for a long time in a very weighty and troublesome undertaking—the erection of Schools, Parochial House and Church. Many difficulties cropped up. They often appeared to be insuperable, but they have all been surmounted, thank God; and, having achieved the object we had in view, we can now look back with satisfaction on our labours and congratulate each other on our success.

As the works are completed, I feel it to be a duty which I owe to you to submit to your consideration and judgment a statement of accounts, which will show the amount of money received and expended. The accounts run over a long time—from 1860 to 1880 inclusive. I consequently find it to be impossible to give your subscriptions in detail in a limited space; but I have totted them up and placed them in lump sums opposite your names: I hope this arrangement will be satisfactory.

The entire outlay amounts to £12,284 12s 3d; of this sum you have subscribed £4,062 2s 4d—a very large amount for your means and numbers. The Catholic population of the united parishes in last December was 1,552—in Ballymoney, 1,389; in Derrykeighan, 213. In fact, by spreading your subscriptions over the time stated, you have given over £200 a-year, besides a generous support to your clergy, and the defrayment of the current expenses connected with the Parish.

In addition to your subscriptions, you raised by a bazaar £1,202 8s 3d. No account was kept—nor could be—of the money you gave to the bazaar, except in three cases, for which credit is given in the proper places. You collected, also, by cards £459 15s 3d; so, on the whole, you subscribed and collected £5,724 5s 10d.

On the occasions of the various charity sermons preached in the Parish, I received from friends—not Parishioners—£1,419 0s 0d. The Royal Irish Constabulary contributed £453 0s 0d for the erection of the high altar. Twelve friends—not Parishioners—gave £78 0s 0d for twelve stations of the cross; and £250 0s 0d were allowed in contract for the old church. The remainder, £4,360 6s 5d, was collected with great labour and fatigue, as follows:—In Dublin, £650 0s 0d; in London, £420 0s 0d<sup>1</sup>; in Belfast, £350 0s 0d—£300 in 1860, and £50 in 1878; in Liverpool, £230 12s 6d; in Newcastle-on-Tyne, £138 10s 0d. In other places in the north and midland districts of England, £600 0s 0d; in Glasgow, £110 0s 0d; in Drogheda, £88 0s 0d; in Cork, £75 0s 0d; in Londonderry, £45 0s 0d; in Limerick, £35 0s 0d; in Dundalk, £35 0s 0d; in Newry, £21 0s 0d; and in various other places in smaller sums.

In looking over my diary, I find that I have been absent altogether from the Parish—at different times when collecting for the Church—exactly eighteen months—besides a few weeks in 1860, when collecting for the improvements which were made at Dervock—but my place was well supplied by my successive assistants. Indeed, I never can be sufficiently grateful to them for their sympathy and the heartiness with which they undertook and discharged the extra duties which devolved on them. I know that you, too, have been edified by their zeal and labours; and that you entertain for them, one and all, a feeling of profound respect.

---

<sup>1</sup> A gentleman in London gave a large subscription, and imposed an obligation on the Parish Priest of Ballymoney, to celebrate Holy Mass annually—on April 28th—for the repose of the soul of his brother—Christobal de la Quintana. This obligation must be fulfilled.

On the list of subscriptions you will find the names of a number of friends, who, though differing from us in religion, have extended to us an excessive generosity, which cannot be too highly estimated. I shall ever remember their kindness with grateful feelings, and I hope you will do so, too; indeed, we should pray daily for the spiritual and temporal welfare of our numerous and generous benefactors. As far as I can I impose an obligation to this effect on my successors. The inscription<sup>1</sup> on the zinc plate, which is inserted in the wall of the sacristy, above the vesting table, will remind them of this duty, and I trust it will be faithfully discharged.

I remain, my dear friends,

Your obedient servant in Christ,

JOHN M'ERLAIN, P.P.,

Ballymoney.

BALLYMONEY, June 25, 1881.

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF IRELAND.

---

<sup>1</sup> Memento in sacrosanctæ missæ sacrificio benefactorum tam vivorum quam mortuorum hujus ecclesiæ.

FACTS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

—o—

BEFORE making the Statement of Accounts, it will not be out of place to put on record a few facts in reference to the Parish of Ballymoney, which are interesting at present and will be more so at a future time. The united Parishes of Ballymoney<sup>1</sup> and Derrykeighan,<sup>2</sup> as at present constituted, include the Civil Parish of Ballymoney, the greater part of the Parish of Derrykeighan, with small portions of the Parishes of Billy<sup>3</sup> and Dunluce.<sup>4</sup> Ballymoney appears to have been an important parish at an early date. In the taxation of Pope Nicholas—about the year 1300—it was valued at the then large sum of £21. The Lord Deputy Sussex made a hosting through the North in the year 1556, in Queen Mary's reign. An account of the hosting, written by his secretary, is preserved in the State Paper Office.

---

<sup>1</sup> Ballymoney—The town of the Shrubbory. Bally—Town ; and Muine—Shrubbory.

<sup>2</sup> Derrykeighan—Caechan's or Keegan's Grove. Doire or Daire—An Oakwood.

<sup>3</sup> Billy—Bile—An Ancient Tree.

<sup>4</sup> Dunluce—A strong fort. Dun—strong : and lu—fort.

“On Monday, 13th July, he was camped at Drommore, by the River Lagran.” According to the Down survey there was a townland in the Parish of Ballymoney called Drummore, which contained 137 acres; and according to the same document, there was a river called Lonkoar, which ran South of the Barony of Dunluce into the Bann. On Tuesday, 14th, he camped at Mountsandal, near Coleraine, and on the march from Drommore “this day wee came to bp’s house, which was, with a castle and a church, joyned together in one, called Ballymonin (evidently Ballymoney). Ye Bpp. M’Genusis house being Bpp. of Down and Conner.” The Bishop was Eugene Magennis, who had received the Lord Deputy in the Church of Carricktergus on July 9th, 1556. Previous to the fifteenth century it was customary to have a square tower at the west end of a church, which served for a residence. One of these towers still remains in Co. Kildare. In this tower the bishop lived. The Terrier—a document got up by the Protestant bishop in 1615, shows the importance of Ballymoney at the beginning of the Reign of James I. “Ecclesia de Ballymoney (the Church of Ballymoney) hath a glebe and 20 acres; it is one of the best livings in the Diocess;” but “the men of the Plantation” made short work of "the castle and the church joyned together in one;" for in the year 1622, another report states, "Ecclesia de Ballymoney—the walls decayed and fallen to the ground." On the site was erected the first Protestant Episcopal Church of Ballymoney—the tower of which still stands in the old cemetery, and bears the date of 1637. In the year 1488 the name of the parish priest of Ballymoney was Bernard M'Closcaid (M'Cluskey?) [In the year 1673 the name of the parish priest of Loughguile was Walter Lyun—these names are still represented in the parish.]

About two miles west of Ballymoney lies the church-yard of Kilmoyle—Kilmoyle means "bald church"—unfinished; perhaps had no steeple. The foundations of the church still remain, and measure 42 by 15 feet. Kilmoyle formerly belonged to the Dominicans of Coleraine. They had a large priory there; and their church extended from the present Hanover Place more than half-way up Bridge Street. To Kilmoyle were attached a townland and a-half called Tollo-cor, which now make three townlands—Tulloghore, Fortown, and Kilmoyle. In the taxation of Pope Nicholas it was valued at one mark. The report made of it by the Protestant Bishop in 1622 states, "Noe church nor walles. Rectory possest by the Earl of Antrim as inappropriate to the Priory of Coleraine." After the suppression of the priory the rectory and rectorial rights of Kilmoyle were given by the Crown to the Earl of Antrim, and the district passed under the care of the church of Ballymoney.

There was also a cemetery at Kirkhills (Church-hills), two miles north-east of Ballymoney; human remains were there disinterred in the memory of people still living; but there are no traces of a church.

The Church of Derrykeighan was founded in the fifth century. Its first priest was brother to St. Mochay, abbot of the monastery of Mahee Island in Strangford Lough, and bishop of a great part of the present Diocese of Down, and who died in the year 497. A portion of the foundations of the old church can still be seen in the cemetery of Derrykeighan. The report of the state of the diocese made by the Protestant bishop in 1622 was, "Ecclesia de Derryhaykan (Church of Derrykeighan) ruynous. Rectory, videlicet, the two partes of the tithe come inappropriate to Kells, or Woodburne, possest by the Earl of Antrym." From this report it is clear that in the year 1622 they could not tell whether, in Catholic times, Derrykeighan belonged to the Abbey of Kells or to that of Woodburne.

After the confiscation of Ulster in the time of James I., the Catholics were driven from this part of the country, and Ballymoney, Derrykeighan, Billy, and Dunluce lost their autonomy as Catholic parishes, and they were eventually annexed to Rasharkin; the lands of which were not so attractive as those of the parishes mentioned. Various privileges were conferred upon the "Colonists;" the conditions required of them being to hunt down the native population as they would wild game; and above all, to banish and keep out "Popery."

For 200 years—from the beginning of the seventeenth to the end of the eighteenth century—there was no Catholic place of worship in Ballymoney parish. At the end of the last century a priest from Rasharkin visited Ballymoney once a month, and holy mass was celebrated at Ballybrake, under the canopy of heaven, in a garden belonging to a man called Neal Murphy.

The penal<sup>1</sup> laws were then in force, and tradition states that Colonel O'Hara, O'Hara-brook—who was clearly a humane and right-minded man—sent on Sunday mornings to the priest and people messages, in which he requested them not to assemble until he had passed to the Protestant church, and to be dispersed before his return; for otherwise he should be obliged, as a magistrate, to take cognisance of their proceedings.

---

<sup>1</sup> The Catholics of the present generation know little of the persecutions, which their forefathers suffered. They were robbed of their churches—one hundred and fifty years ago there was not a Catholic Church or public chapel in Ireland—the most diabolical efforts were made to rob them of their faith, too; and had their faith not been divine, it most assuredly could not have passed unscathed through the fiery ordeal.

The Catholic religion was proscribed and its exercise was made penal. It was penal to celebrate Mass; it was penal to hear Mass; for years and years the holy sacrifice was offered up in stealth and secrecy, in some quiet recess or glen; the death-penalty hanging over priest and people. Not unfrequently the Holy Sacrifice was interrupted by the approach of the myrmidons of the law—for, quickened by the rewards to be earned, there sprung up in those days the infamous trade of "priest-hunting;" £5 being equally the Government price for the head of a priest or the head of a wolf. The utmost care was necessary in divulging intelligence of the night on which Mass would next be celebrated. The people went furtively to the spot; sentinels were posted around; yet in instances not a few, they were taken by surprise, and the blood of the murdered priest sprinkled the altar stone. It was penal to observe the holidays of the Church; it was penal not to attend service in Protestant Episcopal Churches; it was penal even to bury the dead except in Protestant Church-yards. It was high treason in England to obtain any written or printed document from the Pope or from any person authorised by him.

This statute was not enacted for Ireland, but it must have seriously embarrassed the Catholic clergy who were obliged to communicate with their spiritual brethren abroad, through the medium of persons resident in England. Three half centuries of such

Afterwards, when the severity of the Penal Code was relaxed, the Catholics had for a long time, through the kindness of the then Earl of Antrim, the use of the lower part of the old Town Hall, which at present is used as a Ragged School. It was then set apart as a market-place for the sale of a code in active operation, according to human calculation, ought to have succeeded in accomplishing its malignant purpose; but it did not; for at the close of the penal laws, the relative proportion of Catholics to Protestants had not been at all reduced—rather the reverse—however, it was supposed to have done so; for, by a fiction of law, it was presumed that no Catholic existed in the country. In the time of George II., Lord Chancellor Bowes declared from the Bench that “the law does not suppose any such person to exist as an Irish Roman Catholic;” and Chief-Justice Robinson made a similar declaration.

---

It was penal for Catholics to have arms of any description; whilst Protestants of every class and degree were authorised to have and use them; nay, in various ways, they were actually provided with them at the public expense. No wonder that Ulster then exhibited frequently most appalling scenes; atrocities unprovoked usurped the merit of zeal for the Constitution; cruel bigotry convulsed large districts periodically; and sanguinary conflicts debased the people. How just, though indignant, was the exclamation of the celebrated Dr. Samuel Johnson (Boswell's Life of Dr. Johnson), “The Irish,” said he, “are in a most unnatural state; for there we see the minority prevailing over the majority. There is no instance, even in the Ten persecutions, of such severity as that which has been exercised over the Catholics of Ireland.”

four, meal, &c., on market days, and was not enclosed as at present.

An effort was made about the year 1785 to build a little church, as the following receipt, signed by the parish priest of Rasharkin, shows:—

Received from Thomas Sloan & William Cramsie
Eight Pounds Three shillings and sevenpence sterl.
on acct. of subscription Money for Building a Chappell in Ballymoney Sepr. 1st 1785 five.

ARTHUR BRENNAN.

£8 : 3 : 7

The walls were built, but remained unroofed for ten years. The little church was at length roofed (hip-roofed) and thatched, by a collection organised by Mr. George Hutchisson, J.P., Ballymoney, and Mr. John Doherty, Ballybrake. The burying ground of the Messrs. Doherty and Canning occupies the site of this church, which was used till the year 1833.

Before the year 1825 holy mass was celebrated in the "thatched chapel," as it was termed, once a fortnight, by a priest from Rasharkin. This arrangement was not at all satisfactory to the Catholics of Ballymoney, and a very decided feeling prevailed among them on the subject. In the year 1820, a man, called William M'Cafferty, was deputed, on the occasion of a conference of the bishop and clergy in Antrim, to lay the grievance before them.

On M'Cafferty's being ushered into the bishop's presence—Dr. M'Mullan was then bishop—and being asked his business, he replied in a very blunt manner, "I have come the whole way from Ballymoney to tell you that the people of the parish are dying without the benefit of the clergy; and the children are taken to the Protestant minister for baptism; and, if you can reconcile such a state of things to your conscience, you may do so, my lord." No change was made at the time; but the Rev. Dr. Crolly, who was then parish priest of Belfast, and who was present at the interview, determined, if ever he had power, to appoint a priest to Ballymoney; and one of his first official acts, after his being consecrated bishop in 1825, was to cut off Ballymoney, and the parishes north of it from Rasharkin, and to give charge of the entire district to

THE REV. HENRY M'LAUGHLIN.

Father M'Laughlin was really the pioneer of religion in the parish; his labours were gigantic. He celebrated Holy Mass twice on Sundays and Holidays of obligation, at places often nine miles apart. He lived at Coldagh, in the house of Mr. James Shiels. The priests of Ballymoney lived here for twenty years—their principal reason for doing so was the convenience of ending the people of Bushmills and Ballymagarry, as, at the time, there was no direct road from Ballymoney to Dervock. A gentleman who lived in Ballymoney at the time of Father M'Laughlin's appointment and during his incumbency, says, "It was most fortunate for the Catholics of the parish that he was sent here; his zeal for religion and the welfare of his people could not be surpassed. His appointment was the means of saving many souls, and of many conversions to the true faith. A general jubilee took place in 1826; the amount of good that was effected in that small congregation through the zeal and earnestness of Father M'Laughlin was simply indescribable. At 5 o'clock on each morning he was at the altar; and it was nothing short of miraculous to see the old chapel crammed to the door at that early hour, by as earnest a congregation as could be found in the Kingdom. Numbers, till that time, had been careless and indifferent; but a wholesome change took place, which showed clearly what a zealous and faithful pastor can accomplish. And most assuredly no pastor on earth could have laboured with more zeal or with greater devotion for the welfare of his people than he laboured then, and till the day of his removal to Loughguile, the day after the consecration of his new church in 1833." In social life Father M'Laughlin was highly esteemed on account of his playful humour and sparkling wit—peculiar characteristics of the thorough Irishman.

In the year 1832, Father M'Laughlin built the church, which was removed in 1875. The church cost £800. £120 were subscribed by the Catholics of the parish, and an equal sum by the Protestants of all denominations. £90 were raised on the occasion of the dedication. The remainder was collected by Father M'Laughlin outside the parish. The church was dedicated to God, under the invocation of St. Patrick, on May 11th, 1833. A solemn Mass was celebrated. The Bishop—Dr. Crolly—officiated as high-priest. Rev. Dr. Denvir, then Parish Priest of Downpatrick, was deacon; Rev. D. M'Garry, Parish Priest of Ballymena, was sub-deacon; and the Rev. John Lynch, then professor in the Diocesan Seminary, acted as Master of Ceremonies. All are now dead, except Father Lynch, the venerable Parish Priest of Ballymena. The dedication sermon was preached by Dr. Crolly.

THE REV. JAMES DENVIR

succeeded Father M'Laughlin in May, 1833. In that year the greater parts of the Parishes of Dunluce and Billy were cut off from Ballymoney. Father Denvir was removed to Aughagallon in 1835. During his mission in Ballymoney, ground was procured as a site for a Church at Dervock. Before its erection, for a short time, Holy Mass was celebrated in private houses in Dervock; but the feeling of the landlord—Mr. George M'Cartney, M.P. for the County of Antrim—was so hostile to Catholicity that he threatened to evict any of his tenants who would give accommodation to the priest. How different from his late son, Captain M'Cartney, who was really one of the most liberal-minded of men.<sup>1</sup> Mr. Samuel Allen, J.P., Lisconnan, having heard of the hardships which the Catholics of the place were suffering, sent for Father Denvir and gave to him a grant of the ground, on which the Catholic Church is now erected, at a nominal rent of 1s a-year for 999 years. The lease was executed only a few days before the death of Mr. Allen, who left his memory in benediction among the Catholics of Derrykeighan. They remember with grateful feelings his kindness, which was much enhanced when contrasted with the persecution they had received at the hands of Mr. M'Cartney. Whilst the church was in course of erection, Holy Mass was celebrated in a house in Magheradonnell, which was kindly given by Mr. George Allen, who was then owner of the Lisconnan spinning mills.

---

<sup>1</sup> For a number of years before his lamented death, Captain M'Cartney gave, unsolicited, £2 a-year towards the support of the Dervock School.

REV. WILLIAM M'CARTAN

succeeded Father Denvir in 1835. He erected the little church at Dervock. It was very small and cost only £80. It was hip-roofed, and—with window shutters—resembled a school-room more than a church. Father M'Cartan collected £30 in Liverpool, the remainder in the parish and by an appeal to the public through the press. The following is the appeal. It bears no date, but there is reason to believe that it was made in the year 1843. The circular shows very clearly the poverty of the Parish of Ballymoney at the time—

The Parish of Ballymoney, County Antrim, is amongst the least Catholic of any in Ireland. The Catholic inhabitants are, with a very few exceptions, of the poorest grade. The parish extends over a large tract of country, and the best proof of their poverty is found in the support they cheerfully afford to their pastor—being £50 a year. An increasing little Congregation in a remote portion of this parish are very much in need of a small Chapel, but are wholly unable to erect one out of any funds at their disposal. The kindness of a Protestant friend has thereto enabled us to meet this little flock; however, we must give up all hope of further accommodation. Under these pressing necessities, and our hopes and wishes to serve this poor people, we are compelled to seek some aid at the hands of our more wealthy brethren in the faith, and of the friends of the poor of every class.

The writer most humbly recommends the case of this indigent Congregation to the charity of their more fortunate countrymen.

The Right Rev. Doctor DENVIE, Bishop of Down and Connor, or any of his Clergy, will receive any subscriptions the charitable may contribute to this cause.

WILLIAM M'CARTAN, P.P.,
Ballymoney, Co. Antrim.

Father M'Cartan, during his Incumbency, built also the boundary wall between the cemetery and Castle Street, Ballymoney, and erected pillars with entrance gate. The gate is now in the rear entrance to the parochial house. It appears there was great difficulty in getting the wall completed, as there stood a house in the corner of the cemetery, towards Gate-end; and, it is stated that the occupants were very troublesome; but their claims were satisfied by the late Mr. John Doherty, Ballybrake, who negotiated the business with great tact and ability. The wall erected by Father M'Cartan cut off a right of way, which had previously existed, and ran from Castle Street, on the North-west side, between the present church and cemetery, and which must have been a source of great annoyance.

Father M'Cartan was removed to Rasharkin in the year 1848, and was succeeded by the ## REV. JOHN O'HEGGARTY.

During Father O'Heggarty's mission, improvements—which cost nearly £300—were made in the church. The high altar was transferred from the side, where it had been previously placed, to the end. A second altar was erected. The church was floored and good accommodating seats introduced. The windows in the sanctuary were filled with stained glass, which is now fitted into the chancel windows of the Der-vock Catholic Church and the lobby windows of the parochial house. Very Rev. Dr. Kearn, P.P., Dundalk, subsequently Primate, preached a charity sermon in Bally-money to raise funds for the liquidation of the debt incurred; the response made to his appeal was not satisfactory; and Mr. James Canning, who advanced the money to have the works executed, lost £50 by the transaction; but, with the characteristic generosity of his family, he forgave the debt. Father O'Heggarty died on March 1, 1853, and his remains were interred in the old church, under the altar, which stood where the Pieta is now located, in the west end of the southern aisle. Over his remains, in the tessellated pavement, is a marble slab, which bears the following inscription, with lead letters inserted:—

Of your Charity,
Pray for the soul of the
REV. JOHN O'HEGGARTY, P.P.,
Ballymoney,
Who Died March 1, 1853,
AGED 64 years.
Requiescat in pace.

Father O'Heggarty had private property at the time of his demise, and bequeathed to the Parish Priests of Ballymoney, his successors, an annuity of £40; but his friends contested the will on account of some informality. The matter might have been easily compromised, as the friends would have waived their claims for a consideration; but the Bishop, Dr. Denvir, who was executor, held conscientiously by the terms of the will, and in the litigation which ensued the entire property was lost. In fact, there was not money enough, when the case had terminated, to pay in full Father O'Heggarty's funeral expenses. To Father O'Heggarty succeeded

THE REV. HENRY O'LOUGHLIN,

who was translated to Antrim—Antrim and Randalstown then formed one parish—in October, 1856. During his mission in Ballymoney two houses were bought in Castle Street. They stood in the site of the present entrance gate and railing; they were converted into schools, and used as such till the year 1869. He also erected pillars, with entrance gate, at the Church of Dervock. During Father O'Loughlin's incumbency in Ballymoney, an occurrence took place, which is uncommon in ordinary missionary life. A lady of good position became a Catholic under his care and instruction. Her friends and co-religionists were dissatisfied; and great influence was exercised to induce her to retrace her steps, but she remained firm. At length a compromise was made to the effect that, if she were to continue to be a Catholic, Father O'Loughlin should prove the tenableness of Catholic doctrine, and discuss its principal dogmas, with some champion on the Protestant side, in the presence of the lady and her friends. Father O'Loughlin received the proposal con amore. The then Protestant rector of the parish declined to meet Father O'Loughlin, as he said, "his temper would not permit him to carry on discussion;" so a Rev. Mr. M'Carthy was brought from Dublin. The discussion came off in the drawing-room of the lady's brother. When published, it was entitled "The Drawing-Room Discussion." Father O'Loughlin alone met Rev. Mr. M'Carthy, who was supported by six other Protestant ministers. The discussion continued for three days. At the end of the third day, the lady, on whose account it had been undertaken, stated in the presence of the parties assembled, that "the discussion, which had ended, had thoroughly convinced her of the truth of the Catholic religion, and confirmed her belief in the Catholic faith."

THE REV. JOHN M'ERLAIN

was appointed to succeed Father O'Loughlin in October, 1856, but was detained in the Diocesan Seminary for some months. He took charge of the parish on March 13, 1857. In the meantime the Rev. Patrick M'Alister, now Parish Priest of Ballycastle, officiated in Ballymoney. At the time a fell spirit of bigotry and intolerance was rampant in Ballymoney. The dead walls of the town were regularly covered with placards most offensive to Catholics. The Post Office was used for the transmission of vile and blasphemous productions. The Catholics were insulted on the streets, and even in their own houses, by the agents of an intolerant clique. Father M'Alister was seriously annoyed by them. On Sunday, March 8, 1857, they had the audacity to go to the church and there interrupt him during public service. A panic ensued; and had it not been for the intervention of Father M'Alister, the parties, who caused the disturbance, should have been roughly handled. This spirit of intolerance, which has now completely disappeared, continued for years in Ballymoney, as will be seen in the sequel.

When Father M'Erlain took charge of the parish there was a debt of £46 standing against the church; but this debt was wiped out by the proceeds of a charity sermon preached by the Rev. John M'Court, P.P., Ahoghill, in the month of September, 1858. The sermon realised £60.

After the sermon, a Protestant minister, the Rev. A. Irvine, called at the priest's house—he then lived in Charlotte Street—and challenged Father M'Court to discuss the subject of his sermon, on the next day, in the Town Hall, before a Ballymoney audience. To this proposal Father M'Court demurred; but said he would meet the minister on neutral ground—in the Rotunda of Dublin. This arrangement did not suit one good service to the children—both Catholic and Protestant—in the neighbourhood.

The buildings at Dervock having been finished, the parochial house of Ballymoney, which was badly wanted, was erected. The Right Honourable Mark, late Earl of Antrim, gave the site in a most kind and satisfactory manner, at a yearly rent of £5 for 999 years. The architect and contractor were the same as in the former case. The parochial house, with offices and boundary wall, which encloses three acres of land, cost £1,466 18s. A large amount of this sum was paid by the parishioners; and at a charity sermon preached in October, 1862, by the Most Rev. Dr. Dixon, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland, £350 were raised.

On the occasion of the Primate's sermon an ebullition of bitter, sectarian feeling manifested itself. On the Thursday—market day—before the Sunday on which the sermon was to be preached, handbills of a most inflammatory description, denouncing the forthcoming sermon and preacher, were scattered broadcast among the people. On Sunday morning, before the Primate left his room, a large package, which came by post, was handed to him. Its contents were most offensive; but the saintly Dr. Dixon, who was one of the meekest and mildest of men, bore the insult with Christian patience. The contents of the package were afterwards published and formed a pamphlet of thirteen pages. The pamphlet, with a letter appended, was sent to the Catholics of Ballymoney and of many other parishes in the North of the County of Antrim. An idea of its tone and style can be formed from a few extracts.

The pamphlet was entitled—

“A Controversial Letter and Challenge from the Rev. A. Gault, A.B., to the Most Rev. Dr. Dixon.”

“Glenarm, 10th October, 1862.

“MOST REV. SIR,

“You are announced, by public placards and advertisements, to preach in Ballymoney on Sunday next, 12th instant, in order to raise funds for building purposes for the Church of Rome in Ballymoney and neighbourhood. Now, as a Clergyman of the Protestant Established Church, as a Missionary of the Irish Church Missions in these parts, and especially as a minister of the Gospel of Christ, I feel earnestly bound and solemnly called upon to protest, in an open and honest manner, against disloyal, anti-christian, and aggressive efforts of several of the agents of the Church of Rome.” The Rev. Mr. Gault then goes on to abuse the Archbishop of Tuam and a number of eminent "Romish priests."

The Primate had a short time previously written and published the life of the "Blessed Cornelius," one of his predecessors in the See of Armagh; both himself and his book came in for unmeasured censure and condemnation. It should have been, however, a consolation to Dr. Dixon, if he read the effusion, to know that, in the opinion of the Rev. A. Gault, he was not the worst of his class: for Mr. Gault says—"I do not mean to insinuate that you are the only teacher of the Church of Rome who believes and has written such ridiculous nonsense; nor that what you have written is the worst specimen; for I freely admit that Cardinal Wiseman himself and others have far outstript you." Rev. Mr. Gault then continues—"Oh, sir, is it not melancholy in the extreme to see the heathenism of the dark ages paraded before the public in the nineteenth century under the cloak of Christianity? and that the doctrine respecting the veneration of so-called saints should have found such an advocate in you, who are invited by Priest M'Erlain to come such a distance to enlighten the poor, barbarous, infidel, and heretical inhabitants of the Northern County of Antrim. Perhaps, as Bishop Dorrian failed, on a former occasion, by all his eloquent strains upon the worship and prerogatives of Mary, to extract a sufficient sum of money from the cold Northerns to liquidate the debt incurred by Priest M'Erlain, that you by your more eloquent strains (such as is dwelt on in your book) will have altogether a more powerful effect, so as to leave nought remaining, but rather an overplus to carry on." Again, "As you are about to visit these parts, I call upon you to vindicate the claims and doctrines of your church, to satisfy the wishes and remove the doubts of your own people." The letter then concludes, as such effusions generally do, with a sanctimonious prayer—

"May the Lord, &c., &c.

"P.S.—If you have any reply or communication to make, please direct to me, in the care of

"Rev. J. R. PHILLOTT,

"Rector of Ballymoney,

"A.G."

The Primate, of course, took no notice of his itinerant preacher and disturber of the peace, so he then comes out with a flourish of trumpets, in the following letter dated from “Cushendall, 24th Oct., 1862.

“Roman Catholic Countrymen,

“Most of you are aware that a copy of the foregoing letter was given to Dr. Dixon when in Ballymoney lately. There were present three Roman Catholic Bishops and several Priests when Dr. Dixon received my letter and challenge; and, as if a shell had burst in their midst, they all fled in complete disorder; and up to the present day (24th Oct.), neither Dr. Dixon nor any of his party has so recovered himself from the effects, as to write a reply and accept the challenge; no, not even to acknowledge the receipt of the letter itself. I, therefore, publish it and appeal to you.

“Oh, Roman Catholic brethren, will you trust your immortal souls to the keeping of such shepherds?” Then the usual prayer, “May God,” &c., &c.

In the year 1863, a charity sermon was preached by the Rev. Henry M’Laughlin, P.P., Loughguile; it realised £83 10s 0d; and in May, 1864, Rev. Henry O’Loughlin, P.P., Antrim, preached another charity sermon, the proceeds were £45.

The bad feeling already referred to was still kept up; every opportunity was availed of for its manifestation. It culminated in the year 1865.

On January 12th of that year, a sick call was sent to the parochial house from Mrs. Ewing, Townhead Street, Ballymoney. Mrs. Ewing had been a Protestant; but she was received into the Catholic Church on the occasion of her marriage. The call was attended; and the woman died shortly afterwards. On January 18th, the following letter appeared in the local paper :—

CASE OF PRIESTLY AGGRESSION IN BALLYMONEY.

[To the Editor of the Ballymoney Free Press.]

SIR,—You will allow me to make use of the local circulation of your paper to detail the facts attending one of the meanest of the invariably mean aggressions of the Romish priesthood. This offence was committed on the morning of the 12th instant. A poor woman, whose maiden name was Craig, and all whose family were Protestant, was for some twenty-five or thirty years married to a poor shoemaker named Samuel Ewing, living in Townhead Street, in this town. She being a member of the Church of Ireland, committed the grievous error, or, I may say, the lamentable sin, of marrying a person professing the new religion of Rome. It, as a matter of course, brought the curse attending such a union, and as I always make it a habit to warn, I just take this opportunity again to warn the members of my own church—the old Catholic Church—against such unholy marriages. Let them believe and be warned—they can never end with God's blessing. This poor woman was perfectly sincere in her abomination of the idolatry of Romanism, and was, in point of fact, confirmed more deeply in this belief by the daily witness of the working of Popery, which she came in collision with by reason of her marriage. Two families resided under the same roof, the second being also Romanist, and one member being known by the term, a great roteen, which means, in popular terms, as holding his priest in an awful degree of superstitious reverence. Thus, the poor woman, when reduced to her bed of sickness and of death, was altogether in the tender arms of Popery. They did everything but send for her own clergyman—they distracted the poor woman with urgent appeals to have the priest; but she valorously resisted their unfeeling and harassing torturings. She had no Protestant relation in the town or neighbourhood. She was alone amidst Romanists. To the last she struggled against them. Strength sunk, speech failed, insensibility supervened, and death's approximate moment of arrival had come, when the bigoted and deluded roteen above referred to, being the irritator of the priest (and the well-selected moment of a senseless, comatose, and dying state, being carefully watched for and waited for), those people—their natural feelings being blunted by the working of that vile superstition—suffered to be brought—the child to the mother, what she resisted while she had the power of articulation—the husband to the wife of some thirty years' duration, what he knew was her greatest horror—they brought a priest of Rome, who performed on, or over, the insensible and speechless body, some of the idolatrous buffooneries and mummeries of their superstitious burlesque on religion. This is a short statement of the facts. I said at the beginning that this was the meanest of mean aggressions. It was the assault of a rampant priest of Rome on a weak woman, insensible, and within one hour of her death; and I deliberately say that, in her case, there was an unjustifiable and audacious attack upon the freedom and religious right of every Protestant. I care not for the invitation of this votteen to the priest—I care not for the non-resistance or sufferance of this poor lone Protestant woman's family and their friends—I maintain that this poor woman, having to the last moment of being able to articulate, or make signs, or understand, resisted the efforts of her Romanist persecutors to bring her a priest—that the intrusion of the priest was an insult and offence to every Protestant, and an invasion of what we still enjoy in spite of Rome, though she sometimes, and in some places, makes it only a nominal right—I mean the right to profess and practice our religion with uninterrupted freedom. It was a malignant and degrading outrage on the gravity and solemn nature of the very occurrence of death itself, that a priest of Rome should, with the ingenuity of a Davenport, get in under cover by stealth, and perform his tricks, force his mockeries of religion, his idolatrous deceits on what?—the speechless, senseless body of decomposing clay, whom he knew in his heart, if his religion leaves him such a thing, when she was alive and sensible, revolted from such an idea. Just now take this instance, and let us reflect what we Protestants could expect from Rome if we were in her power. Is it possible to imagine a meaner case of priestly intolerance—a wretched, poor, lone creature by herself in a house with eight Romanists? Is it reasonable to suppose that this artful dodge was the result of any one thing else than Romanist and priestly artifice? One thing I ask the Protestants to learn from this, and to remember, that Popery is still what it ever was, and that it will be for ever—bigoted and persecuting Popery, until the system is in the Lord's own time demolished. Let them learn that with Rome or her agents—that is, the priests—there is not and there never can be peace. Let them just open their eyes and learn by the lesson taught them in this case. This is a most favourable case to the Church of Rome for comparison. For what is this priest? A man who is described to me as one who, in the cunning of the Jesuit, suited his conduct to the nature of his location, and, knowing the numerical paucity of his flock, pursued a non-intrusive policy. And what do I learn, and what do I with shame record? That by this assumed behaviour he raised in his favour a feeling of approval to such an extent that numbers of weak and foolish Protestants gave him their money towards building a chapel and house: yes, with shame be it said, for that purpose, and those Protestants now may on any day they require cause for lamentation, go and behold a handsome house of idolatrous worship, and a brilliant residence for a priest of Rome, to the construction of which their money very materially contributed. But that day is past, for that candle lighted and audaciously placed in the senseless hand of this poor woman, has given them a light to see the real skin of the real animal that appeared under this sheep's clothing. I tell this priest of Rome that he has effected his Jant Davenport trick in this parish. He committed a similar glorious affair some two years since, I am informed; and I speak not without my reckoning, when I tell him he has excited the indignation of the Protestants of all denominations in this town and parish by his aggression—his mean aggression—and that when he put into the hands of that insensible and inanimate poor body that idolatrous candle, not possessing that superstitious effect which he sinfully imputes to it, he caused the Protestants of this parish to see the amount of toleration they might expect if the unhappy day ever arrives when Rome can sit triumphant over the smothered ruins of civil and religious liberty. I tell him, I am confident I speak the voice, the loud Protestant voice, at once cleric and lay of all denominations, telling him we are not prepared to permit any further acts of intolerant intrusion, and advise him to cease any further effort to put into effect the persecuting spirit and proclivities of Popery. Oh! what a dreadful system is that which destroys all natural ties and affections, and by its power, through superstitious feelings, converts the nearest relations, almost imperceptibly to themselves, into the channel for the infliction of the most cruel persecution. I have written this for the information of the Protestant public. They have here the facts. Can they expect the facts to be added to out of the slime of a Loyola, or the mire of the disciple of the moral Peter Dens? Facts or falsehoods they will not get from him. Oh, no! They will find him with just the shut mouth of all his brethren; or if he does open it they may, I promise them, be prepared for a multitude of unfounded and untrue allegations, and attenuated facts of a compound of ninety-nine parts false to one true. For thus the flagitious Dens teaches his disciples to speak lies, when the interest of their religion is concerned, is not alone not sinful, but on the contrary is deserving of reward. Let us all still continue to pray that the eyes of our dear Romanist brethren may be opened so as that they may see the light and that they may be enabled to shake off the tyrannous yoke of their priests, and that in God's gracious providence the time may be near at hand when, by the spread of His holy Word, our dear island may realise in fact the warm aspirations of the poet, and in reality become 'an island of saints.'—I am, sir, your obedient servant,

M. C. BROWNE, M.A.,

Curate of Ballymoney.

Ballymoney, 16th Jan., 1864.

This letter was an outrage, and it could not be, as previous insults had been, permitted to pass without notice. The writer, the Rev. M. C. Browne, was served with summons and plaint to appear in the Court of Common Pleas. A heavy Bar was retained on both sides. For the plaintiff—Mr. Butt, Q.C., Serjeant Armstrong, Q.C., Mr. J. B. Dillon, and Mr. William Gernon, instructed by Mr. Frederic Hamilton, solicitor, Dublin. For the defendant—Mr. Whiteside, Q.C.,<sup>1</sup> Mr. Dowse, Q.C., and Mr. Dames, instructed by Mr. Thomas Stott, solicitor, Ballymoney.

The trial commenced on October 24th, 1865, before Chief-Justice Monahan and a special jury. The following is a graphic and truthful account of the trial: it was published at the time:—

At half-past ten o'clock Serjeant Armstrong rose to state the case of the plaintiff. The learned Serjeant seemed to feel a special responsibility in the business; for, while there was neither pause nor hesitation in what he said, it was frequently manifest that the opening sentences were delivered in a tone of seriousness and in language of nervousness, generally absent from the learned Serjeant's forensic efforts. The narrative of the plaintiff's pious ministrations to the dying woman—of the scene about her deathbed—of the poor creature's solicitude about her salvation, and especially of her calm and deliberate observations to those around her—immediately preceding the moment of her dissolution—was uttered with solemn and appalling earnestness. Precise was every word, well balanced was every sentence, brilliant was every idea, stupendous and fatal was every conclusion. . . . After the opening speech the crier called on the plaintiff, who, with a respectful glance at judge and jury, took his place in the witness-box. Mr Butt, Q.C., conducted the direct examination. The learned counsel was in his happiest mood. No one could look at him without being convinced that he intended “to wind up” the trial with all the energy and ability that he possessed. The plaintiff’s replies to the first few questions were given in a subdued and somewhat nervous tone. These were, however, only the opening and routine questions. When the matter of the action began to be developed, his voice, his manner, and especially his scrupulous efforts to speak the truth, and in no respect to conceal the paltriest scintilla of it, at once captivated the court and jury.

---

<sup>1</sup> He did not appear at the trial.

Clergymen, like lawyers, are usually bad witnesses: they answer generally with a view to consequences. Of course they speak the truth, but they mince it, and hash it, and fry it, and always have regard to its ultimate digestion, in so refined and syllogistic a manner as to be generally unsatisfactory to juries. This was not the case with the plaintiff. He answered every question roundly, apparently with an utter disregard as to the effects of his reply in the interest of his action. His evidence went to show the bona fides of his whole proceedings in the matter, and presented, in verified detail, the facts already set forth by Serjeant Armstrong.

When Mr. Butt concluded the direct examination, Mr. Dowse, Q.C., rose to cross-examine the witness. He pelted hard at the ribs of the reverend witness. Sharp, well cast and decisive was every thrust: nor did he want in due respect for the character of the clergyman, whom his duty called him professionally to assail. But after half-an-hour's bombardment the citadel was as unsubdued as before the first report of assault was made. In no respect was anything that had been sworn controverted, modified, or changed by the complexion of a hue or tint. The foul libel that had been laid to his charge was completely falsified by the cross-examiner's operations. Mr. Dowse suddenly—indeed, somewhat abruptly—sat down. Here the Chief-Justice interposed ; and addressing himself to Mr.

Dowse, whether, after the clear and satisfactory evidence of the plaintiff, the defendant intended to pursue the defence any further? If he did, he (the Chief Justice) was prepared to hear him; but if he did, he added, such a procedure might become a serious affair. Excitement lights up every eye in court. The defendant and his counsel are in consultation. Capitulation is the result of the conference. The plaintiff's counsel require no telescope to see what is going on in the defendant's quarters. Anticipating the issue of the truce, Serjeant Armatrong is busy with his pen drawing up the terms on which he will be prepared to accept a surrender. Mr. Dowse addresses himself to the Serjeant, who thereupon publicly announces that the conditions of surrender must come from the plaintiff, and then hands the document he had prepared to Mr. Dowse for the signature of the defendant.

Like most clever men, Mr. Dowse has a voice, whose whisper carries far enough to reach "the gods on the gallery." In such a stage whisper did he entreat the defendant "for God Almighty's sake" to submit to the terms proposed by the plaintiff's counsel. His client was indisposed to sign, but looked confounded and irresolute. "I'll be destroyed if I sign," said the defendant.

"You'll be destroyed, if you don't," ran the stage whisper. The colloquy lasted for several minutes, and was characteristic of both counsel and defendant. However, Mr. Dowse's efforts being unavailing, the court becoming impatient, and the plaintiff's counsel (refreshed by the sensational episode which had been going on for some time) exhibiting eagerness to go on with the case; Mr. Dowse gave the word to proceed. Mr. Butt then rose to ask the plaintiff a supplemental question, when Mr. Dowse suddenly reverting to the prospect of settling the case, begged an intermission for a few minutes. Again the same scene between Mr. Dowse and his client. The same earnest expostulation of the counsel and the same hesitation of the client. At last, to the unmistakable satisfaction of his counsel, the defendant slowly, solemnly, sadly signed his name to that consent, whose terms and penalties had, for the previous fifteen minutes, been affrighting him. Well might he shiver in his humiliation. Not only does the consent retract the libels against the plaintiff; but it positively retracts and withdraws the whole letter: the aspersions on the Catholic Church; upon the Catholic priesthood; upon Loyola, and even upon Peter Dens. Well, besides, might he shiver at the prospect of paying £400 of costs. The plaintiff was still in the box. He seemed to view with a placid contentment the strange turn the trial had taken. There was no bravado in his look; no touch of the haughty victor in his manner. The consent was then submitted to him for approval; and a few minutes afterwards Sergeant Armstrong rose, and in the most impressive manner, said—

I am happy to be able to say that nothing now remains, after your lordship's kind suggestion, for it has been acquiesced in by Mr. Browne. On the recommendation of his judicious and learned counsel he has consented to take a verdict from the jury, and I will now read a document he has signed, "Having heard the evidence of the Rev. Mr. M'Erlain, I regret that under a misconception of the fact I wrote and published my letter of the 19th January, 1865, to the editor of the Ballymoney Free Press, and I hereby entirely retract and withdraw that letter, and every charge in it in any wise reflecting on the character or conduct of the Rev. Mr. M'Erlain, and I consent to a verdict for £20, and undertake to pay all costs of the plaintiff as between attorney and client.

"M. C. BROWNE.

"Dated 24th October, 1865."

The Chief-Justice then said—"That is exactly what ought to be the result; because, no matter what information the defendant may have gotten, which might in his mind have justified him in making the charge; no human being, after hearing the evidence of that gentleman, can doubt the truth of it. That being so, the charge is without foundation; and it is only right and proper that it should be honestly and bona-fide and conscientiously retracted." A Juror—"That, my lord, is the unanimous opinion of the jury."

Of course the £20 were not accepted, even for charitable purposes; as the plaintiff reluctantly brought the matter into court, not for monetary considerations, but for the vindication of his character. If the trial had turned out adversely to the plaintiff, a warm reception was prepared for him in Ballymoney. A procession was organised, and his effigy, which had been prepared, was to be publicly burned, &c., &c.; but 'this labour of love' was frustrated by the verdict.

In June, 1866, a mission was given in Ballymoney by the Jesuit Fathers Haly, Fortescue, and Bannon. They worked zealously and assiduously and effected much good; but the old spirit of intolerance flamed up. The most absurd stories were industriously circulated about the Jesuits and their mission. During the time rowdiness was very common among a certain class, and some of the people were insulted in going to and returning from the church; but in the third week an amusing incident occurred. It appears that an attack was to be made on the Fathers on the last Friday night of the mission. Information was given privately to the Sub-Inspector of police, and he was prepared for any emergency. Friday night came, and nothing unusual occurred; better counsels had prevailed; but about eleven o'clock p.m., a well-known character, M— J—, who had been cognisant of the conspiracy and who was indignant because the raid had not taken place, came to the parochial house and inquired, "Is the master at home?" "Yes. What is your business at this hour?" "I wish," said M— J—, "to join you." "Oh; that is a step which requires consideration and deliberation. Speak at another time on that subject." "No," said M— J—, "I'll join you now; for because the Orangemen did not come into town this night I'll become a Papish, by——." However, when M— J— slept over the matter his fervour cooled down; he thought better of it and did not "join the Papishes."

In the month of August, 1868, a charity sermon was preached by the Rev. William Dempsey—then a deacon. The sermon realised £32 0s 0d.

In June, 1869, a second mission was given in Ballymoney by the late Very Rev. Father Rinolfi, Provincial of the Order of Charity. It was very successful. The eloquent and instructive sermons of Father Rinolfi made a deep and lasting impression. In this year—1869—the parochial schools were built at a cost of £727 3s 6d. The plans were given by Messrs. O'Neill & Byrne, Belfast and Dublin. The contractor was Mr. Robert Young, Ballymoney. To liquidate a portion of the debt incurred, in October, 1869, a charity sermon was preached by the Rev. John Bannon, S.J. The amount realised was £219 18s 4d.

In the year 1870 two houses in Castle Street were bought at a cost of £40, and on the site were erected the lodge and reading-room. These works, with entrance gate and railing, cost £332. A lease of this property was given by the present Earl of Antrim, at a rent of £1 15s per annum, for ninety-nine years. The garden which had been attached to those houses was divided—one part was added to the parochial grounds, the other remains attached to the lodge. The entire annual rent of parochial property is now £8 15s.

On October 9th, 1870, a charity sermon was preached by the Rev. James O'Boyle, C.C., St. Malachy's, Belfast, now parish priest of Saintfield—proceeds, £75 1s 10d. In August, 1871, Rev. Dr. M'Auley, Professor, Maynooth College, preached a charity sermon, which realised £113 6s 10d. The Rev. M. H. Cahill, C.C., of St. Patrick's, Belfast, preached a sermon on Sept. 1, 1872—proceeds, £78 15s 4d ; and the Rev. Alex. M'Mullan, P.P., Coleraine, preached a sermon on August 31st, 1873—sum realised, £64 0s 7d. In the June of 1874 a mission was given in Ballymoney by the Jesuit Fathers, Hogan and Cleary ; it terminated on June 29th.

The heaviest and most important work had yet to be undertaken—the erection of the new church—it is votive. The foundation stone was blessed by Most Rev. Dr. Dorrian on March 17th, 1875. The Duke of Norfolk gave a large subscription to meet all the expenses incurred on the occasion. The following inscription, written on parchment, and signed and sealed by the bishop, was placed in a bottle, with coins, &c., and deposited in a cavity prepared for it in the stone:—

“ Reverendissimus Dominus Patritius Dorrian, Dunensis et Connorienensis Episcopus, Rev. Joanne M'Erlain, Parocho de Ballymoney, anno salutis reparate, MDCCCLXXV die Decimo Septimo Martii—Festo Sti Patroni—Ecclesie, hoc in loco, ad majorem Dei gloriam ac in honorem Beate Mariæ Virginis ac Beati Patritii, ædificandæ, magno sacerdotum laicorumque adstante conventu, lapidem posuit primarium. Papa

Pio IX. Victoria Britanniarum et Hiberniæ Regina. Architectis, Joanne O'Neill and Gulielmo Byrne."

The Very Rev. Alphonsus O'Neill, Provincial of the Passionists, preached, and the collection amounted to £84 10s 0d. The plans of the church were given by Messrs. O'Neill and Byrne. The contractor was Mr. James Jordan, Ballymoney; the clerk of works, Mr. James Gracey, Downpatrick. On August 15th and 16th, 1876, a bazaar was held in the Town Hall, Ballymoney, for the purpose of raising funds for the church. The ladies, who took charge of the tables, were Mrs. Canning, Mrs. Doherty, Mrs. M'Colgan, Mrs. D. Dempsey, Mrs. Harvey, with Miss Mooney, and Mrs. James O'Kane. They were assisted by a number of ladies of the parish and outside it. Their united efforts were above all praise, and they had the pleasure of seeing their labours crowned with great success. The bazaar realised, after all expenses, £1,202 8s 3d. On December 9th, 1877, a sermon was preached in the school-room, by the Rev John M'Williams—then Administrator—now Parish Priest of Castlewella. The schools were used for public service during the time the church was being erected. The proceeds of the sermon were £67 10s 0d. The church was dedicated, by Most Rev. Dr. Dorrian, on the Feast of the Purity of the Blessed Virgin, June 2nd, 1878, under the invocation of the Blessed Virgin Mary and St. Patrick ; and is designated "The Church of our Lady and St. Patrick." High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. John Carroll, Parish Priest of Coleraine; assisted by the Rev. H. Henry, President, St. Malachy's College, Belfast, as deacon; the Rev. Thomas O'Donnell, Professor, St. Malachy's College, Belfast, as sub-deacon ; and the Rev. Wm. Dempsey, C.C., St. Peter's, Belfast (now Parish Priest of Carnlough), as Master of Ceremonies. The dedication sermon was preached by the Most Rev. Dr. M'Gettigan, Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of all Ireland. The Rev. William Dempsey preached at vespers. The collection amounted to £1,326 3s 0d. The sum of £352 1s 6d was sent by friends who could not be present at the dedication. The collection made in the church after the Primate's sermon amounted to £831 9s 0d. The remainder, £142 12s 6d, was raised at the evening sermon, with some donations, which were sent in afterwards.

On December 1st, 1878, stations of the cross were erected in the church of Dervock. A sermon was preached by the Rev. Eugene Owens, C.C., Aughagallon ; now in St. Mary's, Belfast—sum realised, £15 15s 0d.

On June 15th, 1879, the anniversary of the dedication of the church, the feast being movable, High Mass was celebrated by the late Rev. John Lennon, P.P., Loughguile; assisted by the Rev. J. S. Connery, C.C., Rasharkin, as deacon; Rev. Thomas O'Donnell, C.C., Ballymoney, sub-deacon; and the Rev. Edward Watterson, P.P., Dunloy, acted as Master of Ceremonies. A sermon was preached by Father Watterson. Proceeds for the purchase of a bell, £52 11s 0d. On May 30th, 1880—anniversary—a High Mass was celebrated. Priest, deacon, and sub-deacon the same as in preceding year, with Rev. Robert Crickard, C.C., St. Patrick's, Belfast, as Master of Ceremonies. Sermon by Father Crickard; collection for bell, £49 0s 0d. On September 12th, 1880, the bell was blessed by the Bishop, Most Rev. Dr. Dorrian. The name of the bell, cast on it, is "Notre Dame des victoires." There is, also, another inscription cast on it, "Me fieri fecit populus Catholicus de Ballymoney, 1880." The bell was purchased from Messrs. Thos. Sheridan & Co., Eagle Foundry, Church Street, Dublin. It weighs 21c 0 25lbs. High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Thomas O'Donnell, C.C., Ballymoney; assisted by the Rev. John Lennon, P.P., Loughguile, as deacon; Rev. John M'Erlain, C.C., Rasharkin, as sub-deacon; and the Rev. Daniel M'Cashin, Ecclesiastical Inspector, acted as Master of Ceremonies. A sermon was preached by the Bishop; sum realised, £56 17s 0d.

On May 29, 1881—Anniversary—There was High Mass celebrated by the Rev. Thomas O'Donnell, C.C., Ballymoney; assisted by the Rev. Father Bernard, Passionist, Highgate, London, as deacon; and the Rev. John M'Erlain, C.C., Rasharkin, as sub-deacon. Rev. Father Gerard, Passionist, was Master of Ceremonies

After Mass, the Passionists opened a mission. It continued for a fortnight. It was conducted admirably, and aroused many, who had been careless, to a proper sense of their duties.

The following details show the cost of the Church :—

|                                                                 |     |     |        |    |   |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----|-----|--------|----|---|
| Contract                                                        | ... | ... | £4,736 | 2  | 6 |
| Extras                                                          | ... | ... | 788    | 0  | 8 |
| Bonus given to Contractor for finishing the work satisfactorily | ... | ... | 200    | 0  | 0 |
| Architect's Fees                                                | ... | ... | 252    | 18 | 0 |
| Clerk of Works                                                  | ... | ... | 208    | 0  | 0 |
| Introduction of Gas, Gas Stands and Brackets                    | ... | ... | 93     | 0  | 0 |
| Glazing                                                         | ... | ... | 125    | 12 | 4 |
| Setting Steps at Altars, Doors and Chapels                      | ... | ... | 52     | 0  | 0 |
| Encaustic Tiling of Sanctuary                                   | ... | ... | 71     | 10 | 0 |
| Decorating of Sanctuary                                         | ... | ... | 175    | 0  | 0 |
| Carried over                                                    | ... | ... | £8,762 | 3  | 1 |

|                                                 |                 |      |        |    |   |
|-------------------------------------------------|-----------------|------|--------|----|---|
|                                                 | Brought forward | ...  | £6,762 | 8  | 1 |
| Carving                                         | ...             | ...  | 105    | 0  | 0 |
| Heating Chamber Apparatus                       | ...             | ...  | 50     | 0  | 0 |
| Parquetry for Predallas of Altars               | ...             | ...  | 8      | 11 | 0 |
| STAINED GLASS—                                  |                 |      |        |    |   |
| For Sanctuary                                   | ...             | £263 | 17     | 0  |   |
| „ West-end Window                               | ...             | 120  | 0      | 0  |   |
|                                                 |                 |      | 383    | 17 | 0 |
| Railing for Sanctuary and Chapels               | ...             | ...  | 61     | 8  | 0 |
| Calvary Group                                   | ...             | ...  | 74     | 0  | 0 |
| Pieta                                           | ...             | ...  | 80     | 0  | 0 |
| Statuettes for Altars                           | ...             | ...  | 28     | 0  | 0 |
| Crib, with Christmas and Epiphany Groups        | ...             | ...  | 19     | 0  | 0 |
| Stations of the Cross                           | ...             | ...  | 91     | 0  | 0 |
| Bell, with Frame, &c.                           | ...             | ...  | 199    | 9  | 8 |
| ALTARS—                                         |                 |      |        |    |   |
| High Altar                                      | ...             | £342 | 7      | 9  |   |
| Side Altars..                                   | ...             | 258  | 0      | 0  |   |
|                                                 |                 |      | 600    | 7  | 9 |
| Pulpit                                          | ...             | ...  | 90     | 0  | 0 |
| Statue of Madonna in front of Tower (outside)   | ...             | ...  | 15     | 0  | 0 |
| Vestments and Furniture for Church and Sacristy | ...             | ...  | 272    | 10 | 0 |
| Settling Grounds...                             | ...             | ...  | 80     | 4  | 0 |
|                                                 |                 |      | £8,870 | 10 | 9 |

As this pamphlet may be forwarded to friends at a distance who have had no opportunity of seeing the church, a description of it is subjoined.

Situated on an eminence overlooking the railway station, "The church of our Lady and St. Patrick," with presbytery and schools, forms a striking group of buildings.

The church is built of black stone from the neighbourhood, and affords a marked contrast to the dressings and spire, which are of light-coloured sandstone from the Dungen quarries. The tower, with spire, stands precisely midway between the schools and parochial house. The spire rises to a height of 120 feet. The tower is in three stages. The lowest contains a chapel of St. Joseph; underneath the chapel is a crypt. The second has eight small spire lights. The third—the bell chamber—has four coupled lancet lights on the faces. There are three tiers of lights in the spire, which is surmounted by a carved finial, with cross and vane of wrought-iron, gilt. The walls of the church are constructed hollow, with brick linings inside, and the outer rows of stones are bedded in cement for four inches. There are no buttresses except at the west gable, nor are they required, for the chapel of St. John and the Calvary chapel, which project from the northern aisle, and the porch and tower, with sacristy, from the southern aisle, break the length of the house at various angles and points, and give solidity to the entire structure. The church, in architectural phraseology, is "severe" in style, as there is nothing ornamental about it externally, except, perhaps, the rich cresting over the sanctuary; but the outlines are well proportioned, and are equally so internally. The foundations gave great trouble, and caused enormous expense. About seven feet below the surface there is a stratum of gravel and sand, and through it passes a regular current of water. To build above the water was dangerous, and to get below it was practically impossible, so a deep trench was made, and it insulated the site of the church and carries off the water to the Ballymoney river. The internal dimensions of the church are 110 feet long, 50 feet wide, and 52 feet to the apex of the roof. The church is built in the middle pointed style, and consists of nave, with apsidal termination, and aisles terminating in chapels. The pillars separating the nave and aisles are of polished Aberdeen granite; between the pillars the gas stands are placed. The apse and chapels have pannelled, moulded, and decorated ceilings, while the other roofs of nave and aisles are open, boarded, and stained. A range of cinque-foil windows—26 in number, 13 on each side—in the clerestory, and three double-lighted traceried windows in the apse, with west-end window, light the nave and sanctuary. The aisles are lighted by twelve double lancet lights. All the windows, except the east and west end, are filled with cathedral glass of a light-green tint, with white borders. The colour of the red granite columns contrasts favourably with the plastering, and gives a warm tone to the building. The house is seated; has organ-gallery on the west end, and is complete in every respect. The entrance to nave and aisles is by west door and porch. The crosses inserted in the walls of the porch, and bearing the dates 1833 and 1877, indicate the years in which the former and present churches were completed. The crosses had been placed on the gables of the old church. The apse windows are filled with stained glass, by Mayer & Co., Munich. All the stained glass and works of art in the church, except the altars and pulpit, have been purchased from the same eminent firm. The subjects in the four side lights are the four evangelists, with their emblems,<sup>1</sup> and in the central our Lord giving the keys to St. Peter. Over each of the

---

<sup>1</sup> The emblems of the Evangelists are treated of in the first Chapter of the Prophet Esaias. This chapter was regarded as awfully mysterious; so much so that the Jews were not permitted to read it until they had attained the age of 31 years.

St. Matthew has for his emblem—"Man"—because he begins his Gospel with the human generation of Christ.

St. Mark—"The Lion"—because he has set forth the Royal dignity of Christ.

three double windows there is a quatre-foil, in which is an angel holding an appropriate scroll. Inside the chancel, and opposite the sacristy door, there is a single lancet light; it is stained, and the subject is St. Patrick. The high altar rises sixteen feet, and stands in advance of the east wall. It is a gift of the Royal Irish constabulary. It reflects lasting credit on that body, and displays the munificence of the generous donors. The high altar and side altars are of Caen stone, with marble tops and shafts. They, with the pulpit, were executed by the celebrated sculptors, Messrs. Powell & Earley, Dublin. The principal group in the front of the high altar is the last supper after L. da Vinci. In the reredos there are four groups, representing the four great sacrifices of the old law, that of Abel, that of Noah, that of Melchizedech, and that of Abraham. The reredos is flanked on either side by niches, in which are allegorical

---

St. Luke—"The Ox"—because he has dwelt on the priesthood of Christ. The ox being the emblem of sacrifice.

St. John—"The Eagle"—symbol of the highest inspiration—because he soared upwards to the contemplation of the divine nature of our Saviour.

"Quatuor hæc Dominum signant animalia christum,
Est homo nascendo, vitulusque sacer moriendo,
Est leo surgendo, Coelos Aquilaque petendo,
Nec minus hos scribas animalia et ipsa figunt."

figures, representing the old and the new law. A tete de Christ is enamelled on the door of the tabernacle, under bars. It presents to the mind a proper idea of the tabernacle, "The prison of love." There are two side altars in the sanctuary—one erected to the sacred heart of Jesus, the gift of the men of Ballymoney; the other to the Immaculate heart of Mary, the gift of the women of Ballymoney. The carving in front of the Sacred heart altar represents the vision of blessed Margaret Mary, with angels in the side niches. The carving in front of Immaculate heart altar represents the coronation of the Blessed Virgin, with St. Joachim and St. Anne in the niches. These altars are surmounted with statuettes, of the Sacred and Immaculate hearts, in the reredos; and the rose windows above the altars are filled with stained glass, the subjects being suited to the altars. In the decoration over these altars the passion flower and lily appropriately prevail. The decoration of the sanctuary was executed by Mr. Mannix, Dublin, who is a master in his art. In the roof of the apse, over the high altar, are six gilded seraphim; they produce a very fine effect; especially, when viewed from the west end of the nave; and they tend to remind the people of the doctrine of St. John Chrysostom, who teaches that the sanctuary is filled with angels during the time the holy sacrifice is being offered. The pulpit is also of Caen stone, with marble shafts. Four panels of the pulpit are ornamented with figures of the four great doctors of the Church—St. Ambrose, St. Augustine, St. Jerome, and St. Gregory the Great. In the other panels are angels with scrolls. The pulpit is conveniently placed outside the altar railing at the second column. The entrance to it is from the sanctuary by steps, which rise behind the column, and are not seen from the church.

The floor of the sanctuary is laid with encaustic tiles of a rich pattern. The floor of the church, except the part under the seats, which is wood, is laid in ordinary six inch red and black tiles, with black borders. The sanctuary railing, as well as the railing of the chapels, is of metal, from the Saracen Foundry, Glasgow. It is enriched with decorations, the most prominent being the shamrock, in green and gold, and fleur-de-lis in gold. The decorations of the sanctuary and the stained glass harmonise beautifully. Immediately outside the sanctuary and off the aisles, are two chapels—one of St. Joseph in the tower; the other of St. John, the evangelist. The altars are of oak, and were used in the former church. In the reredos are statuettes of St. Joseph with the infant Saviour in his arms; and St. John in the attitude of writing under inspiration, with his emblem, the eagle, at his feet. Opposite the altars are the confessionals—as in Notre Dame, Paris—and as each chapel is enclosed by railing and gate, the most perfect privacy is secured. The Calvary Chapel is built near to the end of the northern aisle. The Calvary group, which includes the crucifixion, the Blessed Virgin, St. John the Evangelist, and Magdalene, is much admired. On entering the church by the porch, the Calvary group, which is right opposite, produces a very striking effect. The baptismal font is placed at the end of the northern aisle, and in the corresponding end of the southern aisle is the Chapel of the Pieta. It, too, is a very remarkable work of art. The stations of the cross are beautiful specimens of carving and colouring, and constitute in themselves an interesting feature in the decoration of the church. The stations are gifts. The names of the donors are placed under them—viz., I. The Duke of Norfolk; II. Mr. George M'Fall, Ballymoney; III. Mrs. Clarke, Frankfort, Blackrock, Dublin; IV. The Countess Tasker, Middleton Hall, Brentwood; V. Mrs. Carton, Dublin; VI. Mrs. Cookesley, London; VII. The Carmelite Community, Hampton, Dublin; VIII.

Mr. John Campbell (deceased), per Mr. Bernard Campbell, Belfast; IX. Mrs. P. Neeson, Moneyglass; X. Mr. John Cramsie, Queen's Elms, Belfast; XI. The Right Honourable Chief Baron Palles; XII. Mr. Daniel Donnelly (deceased), per Mrs. Donnelly, Armoy; XIII. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, London; XIV. Rev. John M'Erlain, P.P., Ballymoney.

The west-end window is filled with stained glass, and it adds much to the appearance of the church. The stained glass softens the light, which sometimes at noon flowed so brightly, even through the cathedral glass, with which it had been glazed, as to be oppressive, especially in the organ gallery. The window is divided into eight compartments, each six feet long, with rose window at top. The subjects are taken from the life of the Blessed Virgin:—Her Birth, the Annunciation, the Birth of Christ, the Flight into Egypt, the Hidden Life, the Marriage Feast, the Foot of the Cross, and Pentecost, with the Assumption in the rose window surrounded by angels in the cusps. "The woman clothed with the sun, the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars," is brought out splendidly in the Assumption. On great festivals poles are inserted in the wall-posts, from which are suspended banneretts across the nave. They take away the bareness of the walls, and give to the church quite a gala appearance. It should be stated that the Calvary group, Pieta and statuettes for the altars, were presented by the late Miss Margaret M'Michael. They cost £182. The candle sticks and vases for high altar were presented by Mr. James M'Colgan, J.P.; they cost £27 9s 6d. The sanctuary lamp, which cost £8, was presented by Mr. Andrew Doherty. A part of the altar linens, which cost £11, was presented by Mrs. Doherty; and another part, which cost £5, was the gift of Miss Mary Dickson, now Mrs. M'Nally. All these moneys are, however, accounted for in the subscription list.

The heating chamber is built under the east end of the southern aisle. Musgrave's patent apparatus is used; it is expensive, as it consumes a great quantity of coke; but it is very effective, as any temperature required may be secured during the winter months. By it the people are made comfortable, and the furniture and decorations of the church are preserved from the effects of the natural dampness of the climate. There are two sacristies. The priests' on the floor--the boys' overhead. The principal sacristy is roomy and well arranged; vesting table, press for vestments, fountain, &c., &c., are in their proper places.

The names of subscribers now follow, and they are given in the order of streets and districts of the parish. To strangers the number, at first sight, may appear large for the population; but it must be borne in mind that the accounts extend over twenty years. During that time, as might be expected, numerous changes have taken place—people have come and gone. Many of the subscribers are now dead; and some of them are not even represented in Ballymoney at present.

✚ Names follow in order.

SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Townhead Street.

| Name and Address.           | Subscriptions. |     |       | Collected by Cards. |     |      |
|-----------------------------|----------------|-----|-------|---------------------|-----|------|
|                             | £              | s.  | d.    | £                   | s.  | d.   |
| Cornelius Doherty, the late | 11             | 15  | 6     | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Michael Doherty             | ...            | 1   | 0 0   | ...                 | 0   | 4 1  |
| Mary Ann Doherty            | ...            | 1   | 0 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Daniel and Mrs. Nogher      | 2              | 16  | 2     | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Catherine Black             | ...            | 2   | 9 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Elizabeth Kane              | ...            | 8   | 2 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Laverty                | ...            | 1   | 0 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mary Laverty                | ...            | 1   | 10 0  | ...                 | 5   | 10 0 |
| Henry & Mrs. M'Kendrey      | 6              | 0   | 0     | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| James Laverty               | ...            | 1   | 4 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Adam Mahon }                | ...            | 2   | 10 11 | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| George Mahon }              | ...            | 2   | 6 5   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| John Scobey, sen.           | ...            | 2   | 2 11  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Scobey                 | ...            | ... | ...   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| John Scoby, jun.            | ...            | ... | ...   | ...                 | 0   | 5 0  |
| Sarah Scoby                 | ...            | ... | ...   | ...                 | 0   | 5 0  |
| Mrs. Byrne                  | ...            | 1   | 18 6  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Hugh and Mrs. M'Bride       | 4              | 4   | 6     | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Richard and Mrs. Scott      | 4              | 4   | 0     | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| M. A. Devin                 | ...            | 0   | 10 0  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Edward M'Loughlin           | ...            | 0   | 10 0  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Susan M'Loughlin            | ...            | 0   | 8 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Rachel Lamont               | ...            | 1   | 16 0  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| John Kane                   | ...            | 1   | 12 0  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| George Kane                 | ...            | 0   | 10 0  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Fanny Kane                  | ...            | 0   | 12 0  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| A. M'Quilken                | ...            | 2   | 0 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| D. M'Vicker                 | ...            | 0   | 10 0  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| William Young               | ...            | 0   | 16 0  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| William Wallace             | ...            | 1   | 2 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |

| Name and Address.           | Subscriptions. |    |    | Collectedby Cards. |     |        |
|-----------------------------|----------------|----|----|------------------------|-----|--------|
|                             | £              | s. | d. | £                      | s.  | d.     |
| Patrick Bryson .            | ...            | 3  | 14 | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| Neal Magill                 | ...            | 0  | 12 | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| James Mulholland            | ...            | 0  | 11 | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| Patrick Friel               | ...            | 7  | 10 | 8                      | ... | ...    |
| Michael Friel               | ...            | 2  | 9  | 1                      | ... | ...    |
| Catherine Friel             | ...            | 1  | 0  | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| William Friel               | ...            | 8  | 5  | 0                      | ... | 1 10 0 |
| Thomas M'Guokian            | ...            | 5  | 2  | 9                      | ... | ...    |
| John & Mrs. M'Guokian       | ...            | 2  | 12 | 4                      | ... | ...    |
| Hugh Devine                 | ...            | 2  | 16 | 9                      | ... | ...    |
| Samuel Ewing (the late)     | ...            | 11 | 6  | 7                      | ... | ...    |
| James Cumming               | ...            | 6  | 8  | 1                      | ... | ...    |
| Mrs. Cumming                | ...            | 0  | 16 | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| Joseph Ewing                | ...            | 1  | 13 | 1                      | ... | ...    |
| John Devine                 | ...            | 1  | 0  | 8                      | ... | ...    |
| James Coyle                 | ...            | 5  | 1  | 10                     | ... | ...    |
| Matthew Hayden              | ...            | 1  | 0  | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| Patrick Lavery              | ...            | 0  | 5  | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| Miss A. Drain (Workhouse)   | ...            | 5  | 7  | 10                     | ... | ...    |
| Mr. & Mrs. Stewart, do      | ...            | 8  | 10 | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| Patrick M'Encany (the late) | ...            |    |    |                        | ... |        |
| Model School                | ...            | 18 | 6  | 4                      | ... | 5 7    |
| Thomas Beatty (the late)    | ...            |    |    |                        | ... |        |
| Model School                | ...            | 2  | 10 | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| Miss Bradley (Model School) | ...            | 81 | 8  | 8                      | ... | 4 5 8  |
| Miss Doherty (the late)     | ...            | 3  | 0  | 0                      | ... | ...    |
| Patrick Clune (Model Farm)  | ...            | 4  | 0  | 0                      | ... | 0 18 0 |
| D. Ryan (the late) do       | ...            | 4  | 12 | 0                      | ... | ...    |

High Street.

|                                        |     |    |   |   |     |     |
|----------------------------------------|-----|----|---|---|-----|-----|
| Cornelius O'Rourke                     | ... | 1  | 5 | 0 | ... | ... |
| Mr. A. Cramsie                         | ... | 2  | 0 | 0 | ... | ... |
| Mr. J. Cramsie, Attorney(the late) | ... | 80 | 0 | 0 | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Cramsie                           | ... | 12 | 0 | 0 | ... | ... |
| Captain Cramsie                        | ... | 20 | 0 | 0 | ... | ... |
| Patrick Armstrong                      | ... | 4  | 0 | 0 | ... | ... |

| Name and Address.       | Subscriptions. |     |     | Collectedby Carols. |     |     |     |     |
|-------------------------|----------------|-----|-----|-------------------------|-----|-----|-----|-----|
|                         | £              | s.  | d.  | £                       | s.  | d.  |     |     |
| Michael M'Kiernan       | ...            | 6   | 19  | 6                       | ... | 8   | 17  | 0   |
| Catherine M'Neill       | ...            | 1   | 11  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Edward Mooney, Hotel    | ...            | 59  | 18  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Mooney, do.        | ...            | 5   | 0   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Harvey, do.        | ...            | ... | ... | ...                     | ... | 18  | 8   | 6   |
| Miss A. Mooney do.      | ...            | 4   | 0   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Ganley do.         | ...            | 1   | 10  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mary Ganley. do.        | ...            | 0   | 1   | 0                       | ... | 0   | 8   | 6   |
| John Brennan            | ...            | 30  | 17  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Brennan            | ...            | 2   | 0   | 0                       | ... | 1   | 0   | 0   |
| Robert Magee (the late) | ...            | 7   | 15  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Miss Mary A, Magee      | ...            | ... | ... | ...                     | ... | 16  | 0   | 0   |
| John Hagan              | ...            | 1   | 15  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Jamison             | ...            | 3   | 0   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Carr               | ...            | 2   | 0   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Miss Carr               | ...            | 3   | 14  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| P. J. Mooney            | ...            | 15  | 18  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Mooney             | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0                       | ... | 0   | 10  | 0   |
| Sarah O'Brien           | ...            | 0   | 14  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Kate Close              | ...            | 0   | 8   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Rose Doherty            | ...            | 0   | 11  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Patrick Mullan          | ...            | 3   | 5   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| John Mullan             | ...            | 1   | 18  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Greer               | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Morton              | ...            | 0   | 10  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Leetch              | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Hanna               | ...            | 0   | 10  | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Knox                | ...            | 2   | 0   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| John M'Vicker           | ...            | 55  | 6   | 6                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Vicker           | ...            | 4   | 0   | 0                       | ... | 1   | 6   | 0   |
| Mary Clarke             | ...            | 0   | 8   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mary Somers             | ...            | 0   | 9   | 0                       | ... | ... | ... | ... |

Victoria Street.

|                |     |   |    |   |     |     |     |     |
|----------------|-----|---|----|---|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| Mr. Williamson | ... | 1 | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| James Morgan   | ... | 4 | 0  | 0 | ... | 0   | 1   | 0   |
| Mr. Lyle       | ... | 2 | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |

| Name and Address.         | Subscriptions. |    |    | Collected.by Cards. | £   | s.  | d.  |
|---------------------------|----------------|----|----|-------------------------|-----|-----|-----|
|                           | £              | s. | d. |                         |     |     |     |
| Mr. R. Young              | 1              | 0  | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |
| Edward M'Quilkin          | 0              | 15 | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |
| John M'Grogan             | 5              | 0  | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Grogan             | 1              | 0  | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. A. Cameron (the late) | 8              | 10 | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Cameron, Attorney     | 1              | 0  | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |
| A. Mooney                 | 17             | 0  | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |
| Miss Mooney               | 1              | 10 | 0  | ...                     | 0   | 10  | 0   |
| Mr. Beare                 | 0              | 10 | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Morrison              | 2              | 0  | 0  | ...                     | ... | ... | ... |

Charles Street.

|                              |     |     |     |     |     |     |     |
|------------------------------|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| D. O'Kane                    | 49  | 7   | 0   | ... | 0   | 8   | 0   |
| Mrs. O'Kane (the late)       | 1   | 0   | 0   | ... | 0   | 4   | 6   |
| The Misses O'Kane            | 1   | 10  | 0   | ... | 0   | 7   | 8   |
| Philip and Mrs. M'Clockey    | 0   | 17  | 2   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Archibald M'Donald           | 0   | 19  | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| John M'Donnell               | 5   | 4   | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Hugh M'Donnell               | 42  | 5   | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Daniel O'Connell             | 2   | 18  | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Stephen Shiels               | 1   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Robert Casey                 | 15  | 15  | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Patk. M'Donnell (the late)   | 0   | 6   | 9   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Robt. M'Donnell (the late)   | 0   | 5   | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Miss C. M'Donnell (the late) | 6   | 0   | 0   | ... | 0   | 15  | 0   |
| Margaret Hughes              | 0   | 5   | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mebl. and Mrs. Dailett       | 2   | 1   | 6   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| William Kane                 | 6   | 4   | 0   | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Kane                    | ... | ... | ... | ... | 2   | 19  | 0   |

Market Street.

|                     |    |    |   |     |     |     |     |
|---------------------|----|----|---|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| Hugh M'Lernon       | 18 | 17 | 0 | ... | 4   | 0   | 0   |
| Mrs. M'Lernon       | 9  | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| The Misses M'Lernon | 0  | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| James Boyle         | 31 | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Daniel M'Alinn      | 0  | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |

| Name and Address. | Subscriptions. |    |    | Collected by Cards. |     |     |
|-------------------|----------------|----|----|---------------------|-----|-----|
|                   | £              | s. | d. | £                   | s.  | d.  |
| Mrs. M'Alinn      | ...            | 0  | 1  | 4                   | ... | ... |
| Bernard Shiels    | ...            | 14 | 5  | 0                   | ... | ... |
| Jane Murphy       | ...            | 8  | 1  | 0                   | ... | ... |
| Henry Scullin     | ..             | 4  | 19 | 0                   | ... | ... |
| Mr. J. Cameron    | ...            | 0  | 10 | 0                   | ... | ... |
| James Darcus      | ...            | 5  | 10 | 0                   | ... | ... |

Linenhall Street.

|                           |     |    |    |   |     |        |
|---------------------------|-----|----|----|---|-----|--------|
| James Harkin              | ... | 0  | 17 | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Robt. M'Laughlin          | ... | 27 | 12 | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mrs. M'Laughlin           | ... | 4  | 0  | 0 | ... | 1 10 0 |
| Mrs. Harkin               | ... | 0  | 13 | 9 | ... | ...    |
| William Gramsio           | ... | 4  | 0  | 0 | ... | 2 0 0  |
| James Donnelly (the late) | ... | 13 | 16 | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Dr. Boyd                  | ... | 0  | 10 | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mr. D. Boyd               | ... | 1  | 10 | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mr. Thompson              | ... | 0  | 5  | 0 | ... | ...    |

Church Street.

|                        |     |    |    |   |     |        |
|------------------------|-----|----|----|---|-----|--------|
| Mr. John Boyd          | ... | 3  | 0  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Gabriel Finney         | ... | 7  | 0  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| John Boyle             | ... | 47 | 12 | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mrs. Boyle             | ... | 11 | 0  | 0 | ... | 1 18 6 |
| Patrick and Jas. Boyle | ... | 1  | 0  | 0 | ... | 0 8 6  |
| William Boyle          | ... | 31 | 5  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mrs. Boyle             | ... | 1  | 0  | 0 | ... | 1 8 0  |
| Mary A. Deane          | ... | 1  | 7  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mary M'Elroy           | ... | 1  | 2  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Daniel M'Laughlin      | ... | 8  | 17 | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mrs. M'Laughlin        | ... | 1  | 0  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Bernard Mooney         | ... | 21 | 10 | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mrs. B. Mooney         | ... | 2  | 0  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| The Misses Mooney      | ... | 1  | 10 | 0 | ... | 0 15 0 |
| Bernard Mooney, jun.   | ... | 2  | 0  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| John M'Kenna           | ... | 8  | 4  | 0 | ... | ...    |
| Mrs. M'Kenna           | ... | 0  | 17 | 6 | ... | ...    |

| Name and Address.     | Subscriptions. |     |     | Collected by Cards. |     |     |
|-----------------------|----------------|-----|-----|---------------------|-----|-----|
|                       | £              | s.  | d.  | £                   | s.  | d.  |
| Margaret Mooney       | ...            | ... | ... | 0                   | 8   | 7   |
| John Doherty          | ...            | 2   | 10  | 0                   | ... | ... |
| David Reid (the late) | ...            | 15  | 0   | 0                   | ... | ... |
| Miss Reid             | ...            | 1   | 8   | 6                   | 2   | 19  |
| Mr. G. Higinbotham    | ...            | 0   | 10  | 0                   | ... | 6   |
| Mr. W. Henry          | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0                   | ... | ... |
| Rose A. Stewart       | ...            | 1   | 5   | 0                   | ... | ... |
| Mr. W. J. Cameron     | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0                   | ... | ... |
| Michael M'Colgan      | ...            | 4   | 10  | 0                   | 0   | 10  |
| Mr. Adam Campbell     | ...            | 4   | 0   | 0                   | ... | 0   |

Charlotte Street.

|                           |            |     |     |    |   |     |     |     |
|---------------------------|------------|-----|-----|----|---|-----|-----|-----|
| A. & W. Doherty           | Ballybrake | ... | 100 | 7  | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Doherty              |            | ... | 19  | 10 | 0 | ... | 6   | 1   |
| Miss Doherty              |            | ... | 10  | 13 | 0 | ... | 1   | 5   |
| Miss M'Cook (the late)    |            | ... | 4   | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | 0   |
| Mr. D. Wilson (the late)  |            | ... | 4   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| James M'Guinness          |            | ... | 7   | 5  | 0 | ... | 5   | 0   |
| Edward Cramsie            |            | ... | 15  | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | 0   |
| William Cramsie           |            | ... | 0   | 15 | 0 | ... | 0   | 7   |
| Henry Scullion (the late) |            | ... | 5   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | 0   |
| John Quinn                |            | ... | 4   | 10 | 8 | ... | ... | ... |
| Grace M'Clokey            |            | ... | 0   | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Nelly Kane                |            | ... | 5   | 17 | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Neal M'Peake              |            | ... | 5   | 16 | 6 | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Peake              |            | ... | 1   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| James M'Peake             |            | ... | 1   | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Miss Lynn                 |            | ... | 2   | 13 | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| P. Laverty                |            | ... | 0   | 17 | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. P. Laverty           |            | ... | 0   | 15 | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Jane Hannan               |            | ... | 0   | 9  | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Margaret Gamble           |            | ... | 5   | 5  | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| J. H. Oallen              |            | ... | 0   | 19 | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Keecook            |            | ... | 5   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... |
| Dr. Latham                |            | ... | 8   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... |

| Name and Address.        | Subscriptions. |     |     | Collected by Cards. |     |     |
|--------------------------|----------------|-----|-----|---------------------|-----|-----|
|                          | £              | s.  | d.  | £                   | s.  | d.  |
| D. Donnelly (the late)   | 29             | 12  | 0   | 7                   | 0   | 0   |
| Mrs. Donnelly            | 2              | 0   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mr. Cramsie, Attorney    | ...            | ... | ... | ...                 | ... | ... |
| (the late)               | 8              | 0   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Cramsie             | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Edward M'Garry           | 1              | 2   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Garry             | 0              | 10  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| John Millar              | 1              | 10  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| John Boyle               | 0              | 5   | 2   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Royal Irish Constabulary | 24             | 12  | 8   | 8                   | 12  | 8   |
| Mrs. Collett (the late)  | 27             | 5   | 0   | 2                   | 0   | 0   |
| Bridget Corcodale        | 1              | 2   | 6   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Quigg               | 1              | 0   | 9   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Thomas Heaney            | 0              | 3   | 11  | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Robert Ferran            | 0              | 12  | 2   | ...                 | ... | ... |

Main Street.

|                            |     |     |     |     |     |     |
|----------------------------|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| John M'Closkey             | 35  | 12  | 0   | 3   | 15  | 6   |
| Mrs. M'Closkey             | 2   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| Dr. M'Naul (the late)      | 0   | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| Dr. Taylor                 | 4   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| Mary Graham                | 4   | 12  | 8   | 1   | 0   | 0   |
| James O'Kane               | 25  | 14  | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. O'Kane                | 2   | 0   | 0   | 2   | 0   | 0   |
| Mr. R. Steale (the late)   | 5   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| E. Canning (the late)      | 152 | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Canning (the late)    | 10  | 0   | 0   | 12  | 0   | 0   |
| Joseph Hazleton (the late) | 20  | 0   | 8   | ... | ... | ... |
| E. A. Canning              | 28  | 9   | 0   | 1   | 0   | 0   |
| James Canning              | 22  | 1   | 6   | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Canning               | 7   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| James Dickson              | 7   | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| William Dickson            | 8   | 15  | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| The Misses Dickson         | 7   | 15  | 0   | 2   | 15  | 6   |
| Mrs. M'Cottar              | 4   | 8   | 0   | ... | ... | ... |
| Mary M'Cottar              | ... | ... | ... | 1   | 1   | 10  |

| Name and Address.          | Subscriptions. |    |    | Collected by Cards. |    |    |
|----------------------------|----------------|----|----|---------------------|----|----|
|                            | £              | s. | d. | £                   | s. | d. |
| Robert Doherty             | 0              | 15 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mr. J. Hamill              | 3              | 0  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mr. Patrick Dillon         | 9              | 5  | 11 | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mrs. Dillon                | 1              | 0  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Alex. Kearney              | 1              | 10 | 2  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Andrew M'Mullan            | 1              | 5  | 6  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mrs. O'Brien               | 44             | 15 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Daniel O'Brien             | ..             | .. | .. | 0                   | 7  | 6  |
| Anne O'Brien               | ..             | .. | .. | 0                   | 4  | 0  |
| James M'Colgan, J.P.       | 200            | 19 | 6  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mrs. M'Colgan              | 11             | 17 | 0  | 4                   | 16 | 0  |
| Miss Byrne (Mrs. Bradshaw) | 1              | 15 | 0  | 2                   | 1  | 0  |
| Wm. M'Colgan               | 9              | 14 | 9  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Rose A. Duffin             | 1              | 4  | 6  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Patrick Boyle              | 33             | 7  | 6  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mrs. Boyle                 | 3              | 0  | 0  | 4                   | 4  | 8  |
| Patrick Boyle, jun.        | ..             | .. | .. | 0                   | 4  | 6  |
| Mrs. Frizzle               | 0              | 10 | 6  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mr. J. Gault               | 1              | 0  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| James Shearin              | 1              | 10 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| John Kavanagh              | 0              | 18 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Annie M'Laughlin           | 0              | 19 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Robert M'Kendry            | 3              | 16 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Catherine Darragh          | 0              | 6  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| M. M'Larnon                | 3              | 8  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mrs. M'Larnon              | 1              | 0  | 0  | 2                   | 17 | 6  |
| J. Cramsie                 | 10             | 12 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mrs. Cramsie               | 1              | 10 | 0  | 7                   | 4  | 0  |
| Daniel Dempsey             | 86             | 19 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mrs. Dempsey               | 1              | 0  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mr. S. C. M'Elroy          | 0              | 10 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mr. R. M'Elroy             | 1              | 0  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mr. M'Asce                 | 1              | 0  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mr. T. L. Hutchison, J.P.  | 3              | 0  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Miss Garland               | 1              | 12 | 0  | 0                   | 17 | 0  |
| Brigid Barry               | 0              | 19 | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| Mr. Johnson                | 1              | 0  | 0  | ..                  | .. | .. |
| George M'Fall              | 46             | 16 | 0  | 1                   | 0  | 0  |

Gate End.

| Name and Address.   | Subscriptions. |     |     |     | Collected by Cards. |     |     |
|---------------------|----------------|-----|-----|-----|---------------------|-----|-----|
|                     | £              | s.  | d.  |     | £                   | s.  | d.  |
| Edward M'Hugh       | ...            | 3   | 16  | 1   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Hugh         | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0   | ...                 | 1   | 4   |
| Catherine M'Atamney | ...            | 4   | 17  | 11  | ...                 | ... | 9   |
| Michael Kirgan      | ...            | 2   | 8   | 4   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| William M'Lean      | ...            | 2   | 16  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| James M'Gonigal     | ...            | 1   | 6   | 1   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Mooney         | ...            | 0   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Thomas Logue        | ...            | 0   | 14  | 1   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Margaret Logue      | ...            | 0   | 12  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mrs. O'Brien        | ...            | 0   | 5   | 10  | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Michael Quinn       | ...            | 20  | 5   | 0   | ...                 | 1   | 1   |
| Mrs. Quinn          | ...            | 2   | 0   | 0   | ...                 | ... | 0   |
| Tha M... Quinn      | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mary Loughrey       | ...            | ... | ... | ... | ...                 | 4   | 0   |
| James Kane          | ...            | 2   | 15  | 0   | ...                 | ... | 0   |
| Ellen Kane          | ...            | 0   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | 0   | 5   |
| William M'Cluskey   | ...            | 2   | 13  | 5   | ...                 | ... | 1   |
| Mrs. Dempsey        | ...            | 0   | 16  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ... |

Castle Street.

|                          |     |     |    |   |     |     |     |     |
|--------------------------|-----|-----|----|---|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| Rev. J. M'Erlain         | ... | 198 | 8  | 0 | ... | 145 | 0   | 1   |
| Rev. J. M'Williams       | ... | 22  | 18 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Rev. E. Owens            | ... | 18  | 12 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Rev. A. Quinn            | ... | 8   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Rev. T. O'Donnell        | ... | 4   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| James Griffith           | ... | 1   | 5  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Matthew and Rose O'Neill | ... | 2   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| John Maguire             | ... | 4   | 10 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mr. Duffy                | ..  | 2   | 0  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| John M'Cormack           | ... | 1   | 12 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Miss Mulholland          | ... | 14  | 12 | 0 | ... | 2   | 12  | 6   |
| R. Shale                 | ... | 2   | 8  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| P. M'Alonan              | ... | 2   | 8  | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Alonan            | ... | 0   | 15 | 0 | ... | ... | ... | ... |

| Name and Address.               | Subscriptions. |     |     | Collectedby Cards. |     |     |
|---------------------------------|----------------|-----|-----|------------------------|-----|-----|
|                                 | £              | s.  | d.  | £                      | s.  | d.  |
| Daniel Kane                     | 0              | 17  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Kane                       | 0              | 8   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Eliza Stewart                   | 8              | 2   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Miss Gribben                    | 5              | 2   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Daniel and Mrs. Lavery          | 2              | 8   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Auley                    | 0              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Francis Drain                   | 8              | 4   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Drain                      | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Robert Young                    | 0              | 11  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Patrick O'Neill                 | 0              | 15  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Smyth                      | 1              | 12  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Michael Fleming                 | 2              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Ann and CatherineM'Laughlin | 1              | 6   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| James Doherty                   | 2              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Edward Doherty                  | 1              | 8   | 6   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Doherty                    | 0              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Hugh M'Ilvenna                  | 1              | 15  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Ilvenna                  | 0              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| P. Lynn                         | 8              | 12  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mr. Gribben (the late)          | 2              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mary & Joseph Gribben           | 1              | 5   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mr. James M'Master              | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mr. Jordan                      | 8              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mr. Brown, Attorney             | 1              | 11  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| John & Mrs. M'Cormick           | 0              | 19  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| William J. Coleman              | 0              | 17  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| William Bogan                   | 8              | 8   | 0   | 2                      | 11  | 6   |
| Messrs. M'Caughorn, Bros.       | 4              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Eliza M'Mullan                  | 11             | 15  | 0   | 4                      | 0   | 0   |
| Catherine M'Mullan              | ...            | ... | ... | 0                      | 14  | 8   |
| Ellen M'Mullan (the late)       | 2              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Thomas Keogh                    | 0              | 18  | 8   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Owens                      | 1              | 9   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Hugh Owens                      | ...            | ... | ... | 0                      | 5   | 10  |
| James Lavery, sen.              | ...            | ... | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| J. Lavery, jun., andLavery  | 7              | 14  | 2   | ...                    | ... | ... |

| Name and Address.           | Subscriptions. |     |     |     | Collected by Cards. |     |      |
|-----------------------------|----------------|-----|-----|-----|---------------------|-----|------|
|                             | £              | s.  | d.  |     | £                   | s.  | d.   |
| Patrick M'Kenna             | ...            | 1   | 5   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. O'Neill                | ...            | 1   | 2   | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Patrick Connolly            | ...            | 2   | 14  | 0   | ...                 | 0   | 16 6 |
| Mrs. Connolly               | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Margt. M'Michael (the late) | 185            | 5   | 0   | ... | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Patrick M'Lean              | ...            | 6   | 10  | 3   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Patrick O'Hara (the late)   | ...            | 7   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Jas. and Mrs. Dunlop        | ...            | 7   | 8   | 7   | ...                 | 1   | 6 0  |
| William M'Afee              | ...            |     |     |     | ...                 |     |      |
| Kate and Ellen Dunlop       | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0   | ...                 | 0   | 8 0  |
| James Trainor               | ...            | 0   | 18  | 4   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Archd. Stewart              | ...            | 2   | 16  | 10  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Miss Dillon                 | ...            | 3   | 4   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mr. Jas. M'Bride (the late) | ...            | 0   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. M'Anley                | ...            | 0   | 7   | 7   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Daniel M'Killop             | ...            | 1   | 0   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. O'Neill (the late)     | ...            | 25  | 13  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Denis M'Cormick             | ...            | 2   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mary and Ann Quinn          | ...            | 1   | 13  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Patrick Mooney              | ...            | 3   | 13  | 10  | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Fines                  | ...            | 0   | 12  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| James Jamison               | ...            | ... | ... | ... | ...                 | 8   | 5 0  |
| Thomas M'Laughlin           | ...            | 18  | 19  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. M'Laughlin             | ...            | 2   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | 7   | 6 6  |
| Mary M'Laughlin             | ...            | 0   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | 0   | 11 1 |
| Anne Diamond                | ...            | 1   | 16  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Daniel Murphy               | ...            | 2   | 10  | 8   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Thomas Lavery               | ...            | 1   | 3   | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Jas. and Mrs. Kane          | ...            | 5   | 13  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| John Kane                   | ...            | 0   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | 0   | 13 6 |
| D. & J. M'Collum            | ...            | 6   | 4   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Jas. M'Connell (the late)   | ...            | 6   | 12  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Ann Quinn                   | ...            | 2   | 18  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| James O'Brien               | ...            | 8   | 8   | 0   | ...                 | 0   | 10 0 |
| Hugh and Mrs. Mooney        | ...            | 5   | 7   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Bernard Mooney              | ...            | 1   | 13  | 4   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Miss Hall                   | ...            | 1   | 16  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| James M'Anley               | ...            | 1   | 11  | 9   | ...                 | ... | ...  |

| Name and Address.         | Subscriptions. |     |     |     | Collected by Cards. |     |      |
|---------------------------|----------------|-----|-----|-----|---------------------|-----|------|
|                           | £              | s.  | d.  |     | £                   | s.  | d.   |
| John M'Laughlin           | ...            | 5   | 2   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Alice Downey              | ...            | 12  | 5   | 0   | ...                 | 0   | 15 6 |
| Mrs. Drain                | ...            | 6   | 6   | 8   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Jane Drain                | ...            | 0   | 16  | 8   | ...                 | 0   | 6 0  |
| Mrs. Corrigan             | ...            | 56  | 14  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Henry Corrigan            | ...            | ... | ... | ... | ...                 | 1   | 0 0  |
| Elizabeth Corrigan        | ...            | ... | ... | ... | ...                 | 1   | 0 0  |
| Charles Corrigan          | ...            | ... | ... | ... | ...                 | 0   | 8 6  |
| Miss Booth                | ...            | 1   | 8   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Paul Connor               | ...            | 8   | 16  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| William Oakman            | ...            | 1   | 17  | 5   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Bridget Campbell          | ...            | 8   | 2   | 6   | ...                 | 1   | 16 0 |
| John M'Kenzie             | ...            | 2   | 10  | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| John Nolan                | ...            | 0   | 18  | 6   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Mr. John Moody (the late) | ...            | 0   | 5   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |
| Jane & Ellen Lavery       | ...            | ... | ... | ... | ...                 | 4   | 8 10 |
| James and Mrs. Stewart    | ...            | 2   | 8   | 0   | ...                 | ... | ...  |

Meeting-house Street.

|                             |     |     |    |    |     |     |      |
|-----------------------------|-----|-----|----|----|-----|-----|------|
| Mr. John Warwick (the late) | ... | 2   | 10 | 0  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Warwick                | ... | 2   | 0  | 0  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mr. Adams                   | ... | 1   | 0  | 0  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Fullan                 | ... | 6   | 17 | 0  | ... | 1   | 9 6  |
| Francis M'Ilhone            | ... | 13  | 10 | 6  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. M'Ilhone               | ... | 2   | 0  | 0  | ... | 2   | 13 0 |
| James Kearney               | ... | 0   | 14 | 6  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. M'Donald               | ... | 2   | 7  | 10 | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. M'Laughlin             | ... | 0   | 12 | 0  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Bernard M'Guckian           | ... | 1   | 4  | 8  | ... | ... | ...  |
| James & Mrs M'Shane         | ... | 8   | 16 | 4  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Daniel M'Fall               | ... | 17  | 10 | 4  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Hugh M'Fall                 | ... | 4   | 10 | 0  | ... | 1   | 1 0  |
| Mrs. Toman                  | ... | 1   | 2  | 6  | ... | 1   | 8 0  |
| John Connor                 | ... | 0   | 16 | 6  | ... | ... | ...  |
| James Nicholl               | ... | 1   | 0  | 0  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Eliza Nicholl               | ... | 0   | 10 | 0  | ... | 4   | 12 0 |
| Thomas M'Cool (the late)    | ... | 7   | 0  | 0  | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mr. M'Cool's Bequest        | ... | 170 | 0  | 0  | ... | ... | ...  |

| Name and Address.      | Subscriptions. |   |    |   | Collected by Cash. |   |    |   |
|------------------------|----------------|---|----|---|--------------------|---|----|---|
|                        | $             | ¢ | d. |   | $                 | ¢ | d. |   |
| C. McAlister           | ...            | 2 | 0  | 0 | ...                | 2 | 0  | 0 |
| Mrs. Turner            | —              | — | —  | — | ...                | 1 | 0  | 0 |
| P. Shaw                | —              | 1 | 15 | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |
| Samuel McGregor        | ...            | 1 | 12 | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |
| Mr. H. Dunning         | ...            | 1 | 10 | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |
| W. Duggan              | —              | 2 | 1  | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |
| Mrs. Duggan            | —              | 0 | 13 | 0 | —                  | 0 | 13 | 0 |
| George Hill            | ...            | 7 | 13 | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |
| Mrs. Hill              | —              | 0 | 17 | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |
| Mrs. McNaught          | —              | 0 | 10 | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |
| James and Mary Pollack | ...            | 0 | 13 | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |
| William Tenney         | —              | 0 | 2  | 0 | —                  | — | —  | — |

Ballinacorney.

|                         |     |    |    |   |   |   |    |   |
|-------------------------|-----|----|----|---|---|---|----|---|
| William Gallett         | ... | 1  | 0  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Mrs. Vitz               | ... | 1  | 2  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| William M'Delan         | ... | 0  | 2  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| George M'Callister      | ... | 0  | 0  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| John Dwyer              | ... | 0  | 10 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Thomas M'Laughlin, son. | ... | 1  | 0  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| A. Stewart              | ... | 1  | 0  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Miss Murphy             | —   | 1  | 10 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Mrs. Kennedy            | ... | 17 | 0  | 0 | — | 0 | 13 | 0 |
| Mrs. O'Neil             | ... | 1  | 10 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| John Moran              | ... | 0  | 13 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| John McQuibby           | ... | 0  | 5  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Charles McConnel        | —   | 2  | 5  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |

Hyekill.

|                            |     |   |    |   |   |   |    |   |
|----------------------------|-----|---|----|---|---|---|----|---|
| James Drain                | ... | 1 | 10 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| John and Mrs. Drain        | ... | 5 | 15 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Ellen Drain (Mrs. M'Auley) | ... | 1 | 15 | 0 | — | 1 | 15 | 0 |
| George Drain               | ... | 0 | 10 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Henry Walker               | ... | 0 | 10 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Miss M'Drager              | —   | 0 | 5  | 0 | — | 1 | 10 | 0 |
| Miss Duggan                | ... | 2 | 5  | 0 | — | — | —  | — |
| Seal and Son               | ... | 6 | 7  | 0 | — | 1 | 5  | 0 |
| Elizabeth Duggan           | —   | 0 | 15 | 0 | — | — | —  | — |

| Name and Address.                     | Subscriptions. |     |     | Collectedby Cards. |     |       |
|---------------------------------------|----------------|-----|-----|------------------------|-----|-------|
|                                       | £              | s.  | d.  | £                      | s.  | d.    |
| Mr. Walker                            | 3              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| James O'Neill, Cabbidale              | 0              | 15  | 2   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| James M'Stay, Topp                    | 3              | 17  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Mrs. Frizzle, Ballyboland             | 0              | 12  | 6   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Alexander Sheela, do                  | 0              | 16  | 5   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Henry Ferris, do                      | 1              | 7   | 5   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Patrick and Mrs. Millar,Glenlough | 3              | 17  | 6   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| John Dillon, Garryduff                | 1              | 17  | 8   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Hugh Dillon, do                       | 1              | 1   | 8   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Hugh Drain, do                        | ...            | ... | ... | ...                    | 1   | 11 6  |
| Henry Kane, do                        | 0              | 0   | 4   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Mrs. Kane, do                         | 0              | 0   | 9   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Bernard Kane, Claghey                 | 7              | 7   | 1   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Mrs. B. Kane, do                      | 2              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | 11  | 10 0  |
| Cornelius M'Cluskey                   | 1              | 15  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| H. M'Alister                          | 0              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Patrick Shiels, Greenshiels           | 7              | 9   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Mrs. Shiels, do                       | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Mary Shiels, Greenshiels              | 1              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | 0   | 12 5  |
| Patrick Diamond                       | 4              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | 0   | 0 0   |
| Jas. & Daniel M'Loughlin              | 49             | 10  | 0   | ...                    | 0   | 12 8  |
| John Gillon, New Buildings            | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Daniel Kinney, Leaney                 | 59             | 5   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Mrs. Kinney, do.                      | 4              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | 5   | 0 0   |
| Alex. Kinney, do.                     | 1              | 15  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Peter M'Loughlin, do.                 | 0              | 6   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Patrick and John Quinn,Leaney     | 29             | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Mrs. John Quinn, Leaney               | 8              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| James M'Keague, do.                   | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Susan Connolly                        | ...            | ... | ... | ...                    | 1   | 0 0   |
| Thomas Quinn, Brevallen               | 3              | 19  | 0   | ...                    | 2   | 0 6   |
| Mrs. Mark M'Olokey, Car-nanev     | 18             | 10  | 8   | ...                    | 1   | 17 11 |
| Mary and Ellen M'Olokey,Carnanev  | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...   |
| Miss E. M'Keena, Carnanev             | 9              | 12  | 0   | ...                    | 0   | 4 0   |

| Name and Address.                   | Subscriptions. |    |    |     | Collectedby Cards. |     |     |
|-------------------------------------|----------------|----|----|-----|------------------------|-----|-----|
|                                     | £              | s. | d. |     | £                      | s.  | d.  |
| Bernard M'Closkey, Carnan-nancy | 20             | 17 | 0  | ... | 2                      | 0   | 0   |
| Mrs. B. M'Closkey, Carnan-nancy | 1              | 15 | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Jas. M'Closkey, do.            | 15             | 8  | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Walter Lynn, do.                    | 16             | 2  | 0  | ... | 1                      | 15  | 0   |
| Mrs. Lynn, do.                      | 1              | 0  | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Eliza Gillon, do.                   | 2              | 2  | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. J. M'Donald, do.               | 0              | 4  | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Lyle, Greenville               | 2              | 0  | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Stewart Beckett, do.                | 3              | 12 | 2  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| P. M'Mullan, son, Landhead          | 17             | 8  | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Mullan, do.                  | 8              | 15 | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Patk. M'Mullan, jun. do.            | 5              | 0  | 0  | ... | 2                      | 4   | 0   |
| Bernard O'Neill, do.                | 0              | 17 | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Alice M'Mullan, Ballybrake          | 0              | 1  | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| John Cramsie, do.                   | 10             | 2  | 4  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Charles Lavery, Enagh               | 7              | 3  | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Hannah Lavery, do.                  | 2              | 14 | 8  | ... | 0                      | 12  | 0   |
| James Scott, Coldagh                | 0              | 18 | 4  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| William Scott, do.                  | 0              | 7  | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Jos. Devine & Sons, do.             | 7              | 19 | 4  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| H. & Mrs. M'Mullan, do.             | 3              | 19 | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Shiels (the late), do.         | 12             | 1  | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Alexander Shiels, do.               | 4              | 7  | 2  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Patk and Mrs. Shiels, do.           | 3              | 7  | 8  | ... | 1                      | 0   | 0   |
| Bernard Dempsey & Sons,Coldagh  | 57             | 10 | 0  | ... | 10                     | 8   | 0   |
| Hugh M'Anley, Coldagh               | 8              | 5  | 0  | ... | 2                      | 0   | 0   |
| K. & M. Sweeney, Balmacara          | 1              | 4  | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Catherine Trainor, do.              | 1              | 7  | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| John Trainor, jun., do.             | 3              | 7  | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Patrick Trainor, do.                | 4              | 17 | 4  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Dr. Reynolds (the late) do.         | 4              | 17 | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| John Lynch, do.                     | 8              | 4  | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Eliza Lynch, do.                    | 0              | 10 | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| William Shiels, do.                 | 1              | 19 | 0  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| Samuel Shiels, do.                  | 3              | 6  | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |
| John Trainor, son, do.              | 4              | 16 | 8  | ... | ...                    | ... | ... |

| Name and Address.          |     | Subscriptions. |    |    | Collectedby Cards. |     |      |
|----------------------------|-----|----------------|----|----|------------------------|-----|------|
|                            |     | £              | s. | d. | £                      | s.  | d.   |
| Mrs. M'Auley,              | do  | 1              | 19 | 7  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Letitia M'Auley,           | do  | 0              | 10 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Charles Trainor,           | do  | 2              | 0  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| George Trainor,            | do  | 2              | 9  | 0  | ...                    | 0   | 18 0 |
| Elizabeth Gallagher,       | do  | 0              | 10 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Jane Kearns,               | do  | 1              | 15 | 6  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. D. M'Alcese,          | do  | 2              | 7  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Patrick Mooney,            | do  | 2              | 14 | 8  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. M'Alcese,             | do  | 1              | 10 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Patrick Sweeney (the late) | do  | 0              | 12 | 2  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Jas & Mrs. Oakman,         | do  | 3              | 7  | 2  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| James Diamond,             | do  | 15             | 11 | 6  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. and the Misses Dia-   |     |                |    |    |                        |     |      |
| mond, Balnamore            |     | 1              | 10 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Ellen Diamond,             | do  | 2              | 11 | 2  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| James Devlin,              | do  | 18             | 1  | 6  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| John Oakman,               | do  | 6              | 7  | 4  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| William Oakman,            | do  | 4              | 0  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Walter Oakman,             | do  | 8              | 8  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| The Misses Oakman,         | do  | 1              | 10 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Peter Diamond,             | do  | 1              | 9  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Arthur Scullion            | do  | 5              | 4  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| P. M'Atter,                | do  | 1              | 12 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| J. Kelly,                  | do  | 2              | 13 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Daniel Shiels,             | do  | 1              | 16 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Joseph & Mrs. Shiels,      | do  | 2              | 3  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| June Walsh,                | do  | 0              | 12 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Kate Lavery,               |     |                |    |    |                        |     |      |
| Kate M'Killop, Ballybrake  |     | 1              | 3  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Gillon, Balnamore     |     | 0              | 18 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| John M'Guckian (the late)  |     |                |    |    |                        |     |      |
| Burnquarter                | ... | 0              | 10 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Duncan Murphy, Ballina-    |     |                |    |    |                        |     |      |
| mooey                      | ... | 0              | 9  | 8  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| John M'Garry,              | do  | 0              | 10 | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Arthur Ward, Drumskeigh    |     | 8              | 7  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. & Miss Ward,          | do  | 2              | 0  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Jas. & Patrick Ward,       | do  | 1              | 1  | 0  | ...                    | ... | ...  |

| Name and Address.                            | Subscriptions. |     |     | CollectedBy Cards. |     |      |
|----------------------------------------------|----------------|-----|-----|------------------------|-----|------|
|                                              | £              | s.  | d.  | £                      | s.  | d.   |
| Hugh Mooney do                               | 1              | 8   | 8   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Michael Olphert, (the late)Bridonagh ... | 1              | 16  | 2   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mary Olphert, Bridonagh                      | 0              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mr. Steen, do                                | 2              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| John Murphy do                               | 0              | 10  | 5   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Roanna Murphy, do                            | 1              | 11  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Charles Dempsey, Cross...                    | 7              | 9   | 8   | ...                    | 8   | 19 0 |
| John Dempsey, do                             | ...            | ... | ... | ...                    | 2   | 0 0  |
| James M'Lean do                              | 5              | 19  | 4   | ...                    | 2   | 0 0  |
| Jane M'Lean do                               | 2              | 7   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| John Diamond do                              | 1              | 7   | 10  | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| James Doherty, do                            | 1              | 18  | 6   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Anne & Margaret Doherty,Cross ...        | 2              | 6   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Neal Kinney, Belusoree ...                   | 3              | 12  | 8   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Anne Kinney (the late) do                    | ...            | ... | ... | ...                    | 0   | 4 0  |
| John Cunningham, do ...                      | 3              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | 7   | 17 0 |
| John Brotherson, do ...                      | 2              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Brotherson, do ...                      | ...            | ... | ... | ...                    | 1   | 0 0  |
| Mr. M'Fee, Macfin ...                        | 0              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Catherine M'Guigan, Macfin                   | 0              | 17  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mr. John Wright, do                          | 1              | 12  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Hugh and Mrs. Church,Ballycormick ...    | 10             | 5   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| John Heaney, Taghey ...                      | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Robt. Young, Ballycormick                    | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Brownlow, LeslieHill ...            | 2              | 15  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Colonel Leslie, Leslie Hill                  | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Miss Hunter, do                              | 1              | 0   | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Thos. M'Mullan, Seacom...                    | 3              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Charles M'Fall, Kilmoylo                     | 3              | 4   | 8   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Isabella O'Neill, do                         | 0              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| John M'Laughlin, WhiteIsle ...           | 1              | 19  | 8   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Dr. Hay, Ballybrake ...                      | 1              | 10  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |
| Catherine Kelly, Cross ...                   | 0              | 14  | 0   | ...                    | ... | ...  |

| Name and Address.             | Subscriptions. |    |    | Collected by Cards. |     |     |
|-------------------------------|----------------|----|----|---------------------|-----|-----|
|                               | £              | s. | d. | £                   | s.  | d.  |
| D. Donnelly do. ...           | 0              | 10 | 0  | ...                 | ... | ... |
| J. & S. Rainey, Bridonagh ... | 1              | 5  | 0  | ...                 | ... | ... |
| James Diamond, Cross ....     | 1              | 18 | 0  | ...                 | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Diamond do. ...          | 0              | 17 | 0  | ...                 | ... | ... |

Dervock District.

|                                    |     |     |     |     |     |      |
|------------------------------------|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|------|
| Thomas O'Brien ...                 | 0   | 2   | 6   | ... | ... | ...  |
| John Doberty ...                   | 1   | 15  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Michael M'Williams ...             | 0   | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Bernard Killan ...                 | 6   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Anne Killan ...                    | 12  | 0   | 0   | ... | 0   | 8 0  |
| Widow Murphy ...                   | 1   | 7   | 6   | ... | ... | ...  |
| James Murphy ...                   | 2   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Miss Dummigan ...                  | 2   | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| John Dillon ...                    | 0   | 2   | 6   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Henry Scalley ...                  | 8   | 16  | 6   | ... | ... | ...  |
| John Scalley ...                   | 0   | 10  | 0   | ... | 0   | 14 0 |
| Rose Collins ...                   | 0   | 12  | 6   | ... | ... | ...  |
| James M'Geury & Thomas M'Fealy ... | 4   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Patrick Donnegan ...               | 1   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Herrington ...                | 0   | 15  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Simpson ...                   | 0   | 6   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Miss Simpson ...                   | ... | ... | ... | ... | 4   | 0 0  |
| Ned Hergin ...                     | 2   | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mary and Sarah Hergin ...          | 6   | 17  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Francis O'Brien & Sons ...         | 2   | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Tumilty ...                   | 2   | 15  | 0   | ... | 0   | 18 0 |
| Anne M'Farland ...                 | 1   | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Francis Lavery ...                 | 0   | 15  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Henry ...                     | 0   | 7   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Captain Montgomery ...             | 1   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Captain Moore (the late) ...       | 0   | 10  | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mr. H. E. Allen, J.P. ...          | 1   | 0   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Mrs. Cunningham ...                | 5   | 0   | 6   | ... | ... | ...  |
| John English ...                   | 12  | 5   | 0   | ... | ... | ...  |
| Patrick English ...                | 4   | 0   | 0   | ... | 4   | 1 6  |

| Name and Address.         | Subscriptions. |        |     | Collected by Cards. |     |      |     |     |
|---------------------------|----------------|--------|-----|---------------------|-----|------|-----|-----|
|                           | £              | s.     | d.  | £                   | s.  | d.   |     |     |
| Miss English              | ...            | 2      | 0   | 0                   | ... | 3    | 0   | 0   |
| Patrick M'Cann            | ...            | 19     | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Patrick M'Cann, jun.      | ...            | 1      | 0   | 0                   | ... | 1    | 12  | 0   |
| Catherine M'Cann          | ...            | 0      | 10  | 0                   | ... | 0    | 18  | 0   |
| Mrs. Doherty              | ...            | ...    | ... | ...                 | ... | 2    | 0   | 0   |
| Mrs. M'Cann               | ...            | ...    | ... | ...                 | ... | 2    | 12  | 0   |
| Mrs. Smyth and children   | ...            | 3      | 4   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| John M'Bride              | ...            | 1      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Edward Kane               | ...            | 1      | 10  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Stockman             | ...            | 1      | 1   | 6                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Margaret M'Googan         | ...            | 1      | 15  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Daniel Fee                | ...            | 0      | 19  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Miss Fee                  | ...            | ...    | ... | ...                 | ... | 0    | 10  | 0   |
| Michael Riordan           | ...            | ...    | ... | ...                 | ... | 0    | 7   | 0   |
| Royal Irish Constabulary  | ...            | 2      | 0   | 0                   | ... | 2    | 12  | 0   |
| Mr. C. Douglas (the late) | ...            | 1      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Mr. R. M. Douglas, J.P.   | ...            | 6      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Mr. James Douglas         | ...            | 7      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| John M'Henry              | ...            | 0      | 8   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Mr. James Loughlin        | ...            | 1      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Charles M'Fadden          | ...            | 0      | 10  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Catherine Maguire         | ...            | 0      | 5   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Mrs. M'Fadden             | ...            | 4      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Daniel M'Bride & Sons     | ...            | 1      | 4   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Mrs. J. Gillon            | ...            | 0      | 10  | 6                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Miss E. Lavery            | ...            | 0      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Daniel Lavery             | ...            | 2      | 10  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| John M'Vicker             | ...            | 0      | 7   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| James and Mrs. Morrison   | ...            | 1      | 5   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Rose Kinney               | ...            | 0      | 10  | 0                   | ... | 0    | 18  | 0   |
| Mrs. Stuart               | ...            | 1      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Eliza Lavery              | ...            | 0      | 12  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Robert and Mrs. Doherty   | ...            | 0      | 10  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| William Scullin           | ...            | 0      | 10  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| Mrs. Martin, Ballinagore  | ...            | 1      | 0   | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
| John Lamont               | ...            | 0      | 15  | 0                   | ... | ...  | ... | ... |
|                           |                | £4 038 | 2   | 4                   |     | £459 | 15  | 8   |

Summarised Statement

RECEIPTS.

|                                                             |       |    |   |
|-------------------------------------------------------------|-------|----|---|
| Subscribed by Parishioners                                  | £4082 | 2  | 4 |
| Raised by Bazaar -                                          | 1202  | 8  | 3 |
| Do. by Collecting Cards -                                   | 450   | 15 | 3 |
| Subscriptions from friends—not Parishioners—at Charity  |       |    |   |
| Sermons -                                                   | 1419  | 0  | 0 |
| Twelve Subscriptions forStations of the Cross -         | 78    | 0  | 0 |
| Contributions of Royal IrishConstabulary for High Altar | 453   | 0  | 0 |
| Allowance in Contract forOld Church -                   | 250   | 0  | 0 |
| Collected in various places -                               | 4360  | 6  | 5 |

---

£12,284 13 8

---

Ballymoney, June 29, 1881.

of Accounts:

EXPENDITURE.

|                                                                        |   |      |    |   |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|------|----|---|
| Debt on Church in 1857                                                 | - | £46  | 0  | 0 |
| Erecting Gallery in Old Church                                         | - | 100  | 0  | 0 |
| Enlarging the Church of Der-vock and erecting School               |   | 702  | 0  | 0 |
| Parochial House and Offices,with Boundary Wall                     | - | 1466 | 18 | 0 |
| Ballymoney Schools                                                     | - | 727  | 8  | 6 |
| Houses Purchased in CastleStreet                                   | - | 40   | 0  | 0 |
| Erecting Lodge and ReadingRoom, with Railing andEntrance Gates | - | 332  | 0  | 0 |
| Cost of Church                                                         | - | 8870 | 10 | 9 |

---

£12,384 12 9

---

JOHN M'ERLAIN, P.P.

BALLYMONEY.

1871.

564

